Ike Ready To Talk Peace Anywhere

Watching Korea Developments, Press Conference Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he is ready to do anything and confer anywhere to bring about peace in Korea.

The President told a news conference, however, that like everyone else he is simply waiting now to see how developments go in Korea.

His statements were in response to a question as to whether he felt the chances are good for a prompt truce in Korea.

In reply to another question, the President said he has had no reaction from the Kremlin to the world peace and disarmament plan he set forth a week ago.

He said the government is studying and analyzing the prisoner exchange situation, and that obviously, from news stories of atrocities, something is wrong.

He added that he as yet has no full and complete report on the matter and so can't determine what the actual facts are.

On other matters, the President:

1. Said he is confident defense spending will be cut for the fiscal year starting July 1, but he is not ready to estimate how much the saving will be.

2. Announced the National Security Council has advised him it would be advantageous to national security for the United States to participate in construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway. He said the council has made no recommendation yet as to the extent of American participation.

3. Said he believes it would have been wise for the House to vote funds to continue the administration program for starting 35,000 public housing units. The House voted Wednesday to end the program. Eisenhower said, however, he does not feel House members who joined in the vote against funds for public housing were de-

U.S. Scores In Germ War Probe Vote

U.N. Backs Lodge Demand Communist Charges Cleared Up

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly today voted overwhelmingly for an impartial investigation of Communist charges that American troops waged germ warfare in Korea.

The vote, 51-5 (Soviet bloc) with four abstentions came immediately after the U. S. accused Russia with "utterly and completely iniquitous" behavior for spreading the charges and called Soviet op-

Red Chinese Free Sergeant From Ashland

"I Felt He'd Come Back," Says Wife Of Sgt. Ned Kelley

ASHLAND, O. (AP)—A 4-year-old boy asked the two questions which today are closest to the hearts of the family of Staff Sgt. Ned M. Kelley, freed Wednesday night, a month after his capture by the Korean Reds.

Jackie, only child of the 23-year-old infantryman, wanted to know right away: "Is my daddy all right?"

Because he's only 4, Jackie didn't understand all the angles, and he also wanted to know: "Will

Legislators Study Bingo Referendum

Lively Hearing Held On Letting Voters Determine Legality

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Should the Ohio Legislature give the voters a chance to decide on legalized bingo?

The question was put to the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday night in a folksy hearing and was good for more laughs than that staid committee has had since the turn of the century.

Testifying on a measure which ultimately would let the voters decide on constitutional sanction for bingo, one sincere woman assured the committee:

"I'd normally spend about $1.25 a night at a bingo game. You boys know it's better to spend your money that way than getting full of that much beer. When you get a dollar and quarter's worth of beer in you, they send for the Black Maria."

Asked by a committee member to define a "Black Maria" she replied:

"You know, it's that little black buggy the cops have."

The hearing on the constitutional amendment offered by Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin) was the highlight of a legislative day. In other action:

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill by Sen. Delbert Latta (R-Hancock) to require con-

Marion Man Wounded By Mortar Fire

Pfc. Leroy W. McGrew Suffers Injuries In Korea Action

Pfc. Leroy W. McGrew was seriously wounded in action in Korea on April 17, according to word received Wednesday night by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cutler A. McGrew of 546 Delaware Ave.

A Department of Defense telegram indicated that Pfc. McGrew sustained fractures of the right lower arm and right thigh by mortar fire while engaging the opposing forces.

Pfc. McGrew, a graduate of Harding High School, was a senior at Ohio State University, majoring in

Pain-Wracked Vets of Outpost Battles

Badly Wounded Allied POWs Taken During Recent Fighting Freed

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—Pain-wracked Allied soldiers, wounded only a few weeks ago in bloody fighting for outpost hills in Western Korea, came back from Communist captivity today.

Some managed a smile or a joke despite the pain of unhealed wounds. Others, pale with shock and suffering, gripped the sides of their litters.

A South Korean told of almost unbelievable cruelties by his North Korean captors. M. Sgt. Kim Ka Sung, 25, said the Reds climaxed their torture by hacking off all of his fingers—some with a saw.

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the Eighth Army commander, called it "a scandalous case."

Some U. S. Marines freed today lived through the tremendous mortar and artillery barrages and the hand-to-hand combat on Vegas and Reno Outposts March 26.

And there were some Colombians captured when Chinese overran nearby Old Baldy at about the same time. Ninety-six Colombians have been missing since that battle.

A young Navy hospital corpsman, Thomas Waddill, 20, of Ft. Worth, Tex., said Marines who had lost consciousness from lack of oxygen in a small cave on Outpost Reno were riddled with burp gun fire.

"I was in the cave when the outpost was hit," he said. "There

Marine Pfc. Richard L. Oven of Buffalo, N. Y., was captured on Outpost Vegas after he was wounded by shrapnel in the leg and left hand.

"The outpost was about 800 yards forward. We were hit about the same time as Reno. We were in a bunker and could not get out. The bunker started to cave in. There was another bunker on the hill and we tried to get to it but the barrage was too heavy.

"When the barrage lifted a little, we heard the Chinese coming up the hill. We were overrun before we could leave the bunkers. They threw satchel charges and knocked the bunker in. We were trapped in there about three quarters of an hour. There were about 45 of us and about 10 were captured. The rest were killed, I guess."

Oven said he was taken to a hospital about 75 miles behind the front.

"I believe it was the best medical treatment they had but they didn't have the equipment that we have," he said.

All he thought about during his short captivity was "I wanted a steak dinner."

He smiled and added: "I think I'm up to it right now."

Atrocity Probe Shelved Until

Return Of All Disabled Promised

Move Follows Word From POWs More Allies Held Captive

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists said today they would free more disabled Allied prisoners—a startling reversal of their earlier insistence on releasing only 605.

They did not say how many more, nor their nationalities. But they did pledge to return all sick and wounded Allied troops in North Korean stockades as well as those captured recently.

The unexpected move apparently stalled off a possible U. N. protest that the Reds were holding back some disabled captives.

Allied prisoners exchanged in four days have said many more seriously sick and wounded were left behind in North Korea.

Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. commander, said he was gratified that the Communists, "in response to repeated requests from the U. N. Command, have agreed to return . . . all UNC personnel in this category."

Some of the recently wounded prisoners came back Thursday, pale and unbelieving. The day's total was 14 Americans, 5 Australians, 6 Colombians and 75 South Koreans.

Forty more Americans are due Friday. So are 4 British, 4 Turks, 1 Hollander, 1 Canadian and 50 South Koreans.

lying him.

4. Said he and other administration officials are studying plans for reorganization of both the State and the Defense Departments. The plan will be sent to Congress soon.

5. Declared emphatically plans for defense of Europe against possible Communist aggression cannot be based either on the idea that an attack might be imminent, or that it might come several years from now.

Anyone who tells you he can predict the day or hour of an attack is crazy, the President said.

6. Remarked he is not necessarily against any change in the reciprocal trade act but feels that a simple one-year extension beyond June 12 would be the best move at this time, pending further study of the situation.

7. Described the matter of opening up the atomic energy field to private industry as one which is challenging both the Atomic Energy Commission and other government agencies. Some changes in the law may be necessary to permit it, but certainly it is the hope of everyone that something can be done in that direction, the President added.

8. Said if any government officials have been discharged from important jobs for patronage reasons, he is completely unaware of it. He said he does not want things run that way.

9 In comment on the submerged oil lands legislation pending in the Senate, said his position has been stated many times.

10. Said there has been no diplomatic correspondence which has come to his attention regarding the possibility of a Four-Power conference on the world situation.

position to the investigation reprehensible in the extreme."

U. S. Delegate Ernest A. Gross made the gloves off attack on Russia as the U. N. Assembly began the last day of its stormy seventh session.

Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky immediately took the floor and counter-charged that U. S. denials of germ war were "reckless denials of act" and said the kind of investigation the U. S. wanted was based on "hyrocrisy and falseness."

The Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee already has approved the inquiry and the U. N. budget group has appropriated $65,500 to finance it.

The Political Committee finished its work last night in a welter of good feeling and self-congratulation. Even Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky praised Chairman Joao Carlos Muniz of Brazil and the "spring temper" of the U. N. these days.

he be home tonight?"

Mrs. Ruth Kelley, 26, got the good news on television. She jumped from her armchair and ran crying to a neighbor: "They've freed my Ned.

"Somehow, I couldn't picture him dead," she said. "So many things can happen, but I just never had that feeling he would never come back."

On March 21, Mrs. Kelley had her last letter from Ned. And that day he was reported missing on combat patrol.

Kelley is the third Ohio soldier to be freed in the current Korean War prisoner exchange. First was Pfc. John Leslie Robinson, 20, of Wellston, then Pvt. Charles Sacco, 27, of Lorain.

The Kelleys, both Ashland County natives, were married six years ago. He attended high school at nearby Savannah and then went to work in the F. E.

Temple Ground Breaking Scheduled

Congregation of Israel Ceremony Set for Sunday

Ground-breaking ceremonies signaling start of construction of a new Congregation of Israel Temple and community center building at S. Seffner and Mt. Vernon Aves. are set for 12 o'clock noon Sunday.

Honor of turning over the first shovel of dirt at the building site will go to S. G. Kleinmaier of 434 S. State St., only surviving charter member of the Marion congregation.

Rabbi Victor Weisberg will officiate at the ceremonies and among those attending will be the three chairmen of the Religion in American Life series: George Schertzer of the Protestant committee, Robert Kelly of the Catholic committee, and Benjamin Lenavitt of the Jewish committee.

Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest will officially represent the city at the ceremonies, which will be attended by nearly all the 32 families which are members of the congregation.

Opens New Chapter

The ground-breaking will mark the beginning of a new chapter in the 53-year history of the Congregation.

Mr. Kleinmaier, a resident of Marion most of his 93 years, was one of the original members. Other charter members included the Strelitz, Oppenheimer, Katz, Marx and Rosenberg families.

With its small membership, the Congregation first met for worship and social activities in homes of the various members. As the membership grew, the organization rented rooms in the Masonic Temple shortly after 1910. During the next few years, the organization was located in the Eagles' Building, in rooms behind the Midway Restaurant, and rooms over the W. T. Grant Store.

In 1945 the congregation incorporated and purchased the property at 390 E. Center St., present location of the Temple of Israel. This property was recently sold to the Albers' Supermarkets with a proviso the Congregation be permitted to continue occupancy for a year. Albers plan eventually to construct a new supermarket on the site, according to company officials.

Building Plan

Of modern architectural design and construction the Congregation of Israel's new building will be in the shape of a T and will have its main entrance facing on Mt. Vernon Ave. The site comprises a total of three lots and is located at the northeast corner of the S. Seffner Ave-.Mt. Vernon Ave. intersection.

The building, with a total capacity of 250 persons, will be about 64 feet wide by about 92 feet long and will contain all necessary facilities for both worship services and social gatherings. The area around the building will be completely landscaped and a parking lot for some 40 automobiles will be located at the rear with an entrance driveway from S. Seffner Ave.

Architects and contractors for construction of the building are the F and Y Building Services of Columbus. Completion is scheduled for September.

victed drunken drivers to spend at least three days in jail in addition to paying a fine of up to $500.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to force better rural service by permitting the state utilities commission to set minimum service standards, order repairs and order phones installed, provide such orders leave companies a fair return on their investments. The bill is a Republican policy measure.

The House Finance Committee trimmed Gov. Frank J. Lausche's 831 million dollar state budget for the next two years by 10½ millions. The money squeezed from the budget is expected to go toward an increase in the state's school subsidy. Lausche recommended 215 millions for schools. The Republican Legislature is inclined to a 227½ million appropriation, and the 10½ millions brings the Legislature within shooting distance of the goal.

Bingo's friends made it ladies' night in the Senate judiciary committee.

Shaw presented his proposed constitutional amendment—as a means of giving "many of moderate or lower means a chance to play an interesting game in congenial surroundings."

A law passed by the Legislature in 1943 exempted lotteries operated by a person "not for his own profit" from the constitutional ban or lotteries "forever." Shaw and Thomas Maxson of Columbus, a witness in favor of the referendum on bingo, said a forthcoming decision of the Ohio Supreme Court may decide whether charitable bingo is legal.

Maxson represents a Columbus client in the pending Supreme Court case. He told the committee bingo is no different, in essence, from legalized horse race betting or "gambling" in stocks and grain futures.

One feminine witness in bingo's behalf said she was a mother-in-law who goes to church on Sunday, but is embarrassed by "siting there and watching my daughter and her husband the rest of the week." The only other place she has to go, she said, is a bingo game.

Another woman, Mrs. Lucille Ruh, whose father and mother before her operated bingo games in Columbus for 30 years, told the senators she expected to draw only a salary from her late parents' reestablished game if bingo again becomes legal in Columbus. The rest of the game's take, she said, will go to charitable organizations.

Mrs. Ruh listed other cities in which bingo is popular but in which no professional gambling element exists as Delaware, Marion and Springfield.

mathematics, when he enlisted in the Army last June 25. Previously he had attended Ohio Wesleyan University for two years.

He received his training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and left the U. S. for Korea in November. When he arrived at the front lines he was assigned as a gunner and later was assigned to the Medical Corps.

In letters to his parents, Pfc. McGrew indicated he was near Old Baldy, and in a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. McGrew last week, he said he was scheduled to be taken from the front lines for a three-week rest.

Mr. McGrew is manager of the Marion J. C. Penney Co. store.

BRT Sounds Strike Call At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has set 6 a. m. EST Saturday for a strike against the Nickel Plate Road and its leased Wheeling Lake Erie division.

But there is a chance the National (Railway) Mediation Board will intervene before then to delay the walkout which would idle 16,000 employes of the carrier's 2,200 miles of trackage in Ohio, New York, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

Only four weeks ago the BRT set a strike deadline for its 2,300 members employed by Nickel Plate, but eight hours before the deadline postponed the walkout at the request of the board.

Negotiations since the delay of the March 28 strike call "didn't get any place," a brotherhood spokesman here said, and were broken off Tuesday.

were just three of us walking around. Lots of the guys were asphyxiated and snoring. The Chinese started spraying us with burp guns and grenades. They came in the cave. I got powder burns from a pistol. Then I got shot in the neck and I thought I was going to die. I just kept moving around and finally they captured me."

Pfc. Samuel J. Armstrong, 18, of San Antonio, Tex., captured on Vegas, said he knew of 10 other Americans captured in the bitter fight who still are prisoners. He said he was well treated.

Marine Pfc. Joseph Britt Jr. of Long Beach, Calif., captured in the same fight, said the Chinese gave him only battle dressings for several days. Britt was wounded in the arm and leg by shrapnel and had light shrapnel wounds on his head.

Britt said he was marched by the Chinese for about two hours until he collapsed from loss of blood.

"I didn't know I was wounded in the leg until I was in the hospital and they were my worst wounds," he said. "I couldn't make them understand to take my boots off. About all they'd do was wrap you up."

He was with six other Marines. He was not questioned very much but "they constantly questioned the other guys."

When he was questioned, he said, "I asked them questions to keep them from asking me questions. They thought I was quite the clown. I guess I am too good looking and too mean to die.

"They had their chance and they couldn't do it."

Marine Cpl. Jimmy E. Lacy of Texarkana, Tex., said he knew of only four suvivors among 41 Marines hit by Chinese on Outpost Reno.

Sen. Bridges Calls Off Inquiry; Would Put Truce in Jeopardy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to inquire into Red atrocities against prisoners of war in Korea has been put temporarily on a Senate shelf.

After being assured that the Army and State Department will step up collection of evidence with a view to later war crimes prosecutions of the Communists for any atrocities against United Nations prisoners, the Senate Appropriations Committee dropped plans to investigate.

Some members of the committee, like Senators Ellender (D-La) and Magnuson (D-Wash), said they regarded yesterday's two-hour inquiry, ordered by Chairman Bridges (R-NH), as "premature."

Rep. Judd (R-Minn) said, meanwhile, that the Communists are using the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners to divert American attention from "the main campaign"—a thrust toward rich Southeast Asia. The drive started just after Peiping announced acceptance of U. N. proposals to exchange sick and wounded prisoners.

Rep. Zablocki (R-Wis) said the Laos campaign is "very serious" and agreed with Judd that the attack should be turned over to the United Nations. Laos has petitioned for U. N. help but no action has been taken.

The two congressmen are members of a four-man foreign affairs subcommittee which returned recently from a swing through the Far East.

Forty more Americans are due Friday. So are 4 British, 4 Turks, 1 Hollander, 1 Canadian and 50 South Koreans.

As Thursday's group returned, the guns of war thundered just outside this neutral center where full-scale armistice negotiations resume Saturday.

Some wounds were fresh and still unhealed—Marines from the battle of the Panmunjom outposts earlier this month and Colombians caught in the Red onslaught over Old Baldy a few days before.

The first eight patients were chalky-faced, some obviously in pain.

They were rushed to doctors for first aid and later to hospitals for full medical care.

One uncertain Marine tugged at the arm of an American lieutenant as his litter was passed from a Red ambulance.

"No foolin', lieutenant, is this really changee-changee?"

"No foolin'," answered the officer.

One happy Colombian climbed through a back window of a Communist ambulance without waiting for the door to be opened.

The 14 Americans brought the total of U. S. troops returned to 79. The 40 promised for Friday would make a total of 119, just one short of the 120 promised originally by the Reds. However, the new Red move could raise that figure.

In four days of exchange, the Communists have returned 400 Allied troops—the majority South Korean—and the U. N. has returned 2,000 Communists, including all 700 Chinese scheduled to go home.

The Red offer to return more U. N. troops came at a special liaison officers meeting called by

Hear News of Husbands, Sons Thought Dead

Relatives of Freed Americans Weep for Joy

By The Associated Press

A 17-year-old bride in Texas jumped up and down in joy, then broke into tears.

A 26-year-old wife in Ohio said quietly, "So many things can happen, but somehow I knew he'd be back."

Both had just learned their husbands were among the 14 American prisoners of war freed last night by the Communists.

And in Swampscott, Mass., a neighbor shouted to Papa Denoto d'Andreo: "Your boy is saved. Your boy is a prisoner released."

Said D'Andreo:

"Course I'm happy. As soon as I hear it I start to cry. But I don't want my wife to see me cry so I ran upstairs and said 'Mary, thank God, our boy is safe.' Then my wife started crying and she told me she is only crying for joy."

D'Andreo's boy is Vincent d'Andreo, 22, who was taken prisoner last March 5. The elder D'Andreo, a park department employe, said he had no plans for a party now, "but wait until my boy arrives back in the house. There'll be a real party."

The 17-year-old bride is Sue Lacy, wife of Cpl. Jimmie E. Lacy of Texarkana. They were married last Nov. 10. Lacy sailed for Korea Jan. 5 and was reported missing in action two months later.

Lacy's father Otto said his son had lied about his age to join the Marines and is only 17.

Mrs. Ruth Kelley of Ashland, O., is the 26-year-old wife who kept faith that her husband, Sgt. Ned M. Kelley, 23, would return.

In Fort Worth, Tex., Thomas Waddill and his wife who thought their 20-year-old son Thomas Hood Waddill had been killed less than a month ago in Korea sat watching their television set. Suddenly they saw his name flashed on the screen as a returned prisoner. The youth had been reported missing in action March 28.

"I know it's my boy," said Waddill. "Nobody else in the world would have a name like that."

A San Antonio, Tex., woman who has had seven sons in the Marines at one time or another, learned one of her boys, Pfc. Samuel J. Armstrong, had been released.

The mother, Mrs. Ida Barnes, is confined to the Brooke Army Hospital at San Antonio for treatment of burns. When she heard the news she got out of bed and happily toured the ward, telling everyone her 19-year-old son was safe. Three other sons recently were returned home as Korean casualties and discharged.

Neighbors crowded into the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hart of Wantagh, N. Y., to join in a family celebration. The Hart's son, Marine Pfc. George F. Hart, was captured only last March 26 and freed yesterday.

Mrs. D. T. Akers of Bluefield, W. Va., said it was "prayers by the whole family" that brought back her son. Pfc. Charles Wesley Akers had been reported missing in action a month and a half ago.

At Milwaukee, Wis., Mrs. Mona Steinke, whose son had been reported missing, said, "we didn't even know he was a prisoner. All we knew was that he was missing." Pfc. Fred C. Steinke, 21, had been reported missing in action since March 5.

The first prisoner of war from Arizona to be released was Pfc. Ben McGhee of Phoenix. He is one of eight children in the family. Beamed Mrs. Constance McGhee:

"This is the best news we've ever had."

Church Women Plan Annual May Luncheon

Fellowship Program To Be Held at First Presbyterian Church

Plans are being completed for the annual May Fellowship Luncheon for the Council of United Church Women of Marion County, to be held May 1 in Marion at 1 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. The theme, "Citizenship—Our Christian Concern," will be emphasized in the devotional period, in charge of Mrs. Ashley Booth. The girls' sextette of Harding High School will sing. Mrs. Harry T. William's will provide organ music.

Mrs. Coburn Vandersall the wife of the Rev. Mr. Vandersall of Amherst, will speak and show colored slides of conditions in Europe as she traveled there with her husband in May, 1950. He is pastor of the Amherst EUB Church and is a brother of Mrs. Fred Dutt of the Richland Pk., Marion. The Vandersalls initiated an over-seas relief project during World War II, and continuing to date, it totals 686 boxes of clothing and supplies sent to Europe. Originally sponsored by the WSWS of their Church, the project spread to such gigantic proportions, the Sunday School assumed the task of collections. For several years, they kept a box in the Amherst Post Office, where people of the community deposited clothing. Mrs. Vandersall packed all the boxes, and maintained a correspondence with the recipients of the clothing.

In her talk and pictures, she will share experiences which she had with these families during their trip through Europe. Close contact with the everyday life of Europeans was made possible through advance correspondence of her husband with Rotarians in Europe, and his subsequent speaking to various Rotary Clubs there. Mrs. Vandersall's ability to speak the German language was an asset as they visited the war-torn families to whom the packages were sent.

All church women are invited to share this luncheon meeting, Mrs. Dutt, president stated. Tickets are being sold by representatives in the various churches. All reservations must be made with Miss Anna Dennig, phone 2-0346, not later than April 28, Mrs. Dutt announced.

Robert Lowry, newly - elected president and Mrs. Betty Smith, the new secretary, will attend a district PTA meeting at Worthington on April 29. Mrs. Emma Roettger's room received the award for having the largest percentage of parents present.

Marion Recording Heard in Okinawa

News from home is evidently reaching American servicemen overseas.

A-1c James A. Hall, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hall, 670 Woodrow Ave., wrote home that a tape recording made at Marion's radio station WMRN was played over the radio at the Okinawa base last week. Each day at noon for 15 minutes, the Marion soldier wrote, three recordings made in various American cities are played. The transcription included news of the November election and the new Harding High School building, he said.

Hall, a 1950 graduate of Harding High School, is an airplane and engine mechanic with the air force. He received his basic training at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after entering the service on Jan. 2, 1951. He has been stationed in Okinawa for the past 18 months.

GALION — A home on the Brandt Rd. has been furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shifley, and they are living there after a short wedding trip. The couple was married here Sunday, April 19, in the First Presbyterian Church at 2:30 p.m., by the Rev. W. H. Kunce. It was a single ring ceremony, with members of the immediate families present.

The bride is the former Pauline Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phillips of Galion. Mr. Shifley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Shifley of the Bucyrus Rd.

Miss Esther Phillips was her sister's maid of honor. Herbert Shifley was best man for his brother.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left for a short wedding trip.

The bride is a typist at the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co. She was graduated from Galion High School in 1948. Mr. Shifley was graduated from Galion High School in 1944, and he is a postal clerk at the Galion Post Office.

The ancient church at Valenciana, Mexico, is said to have been built with mortar containing powdered silver and wine.

Get Rid of Movie Censors

Only one thing can keep Ohio's General Assembly from getting rid of the state's obsolete law on motion picture censorship this year.

That is overdrawn arguments of the opposition. They could defeat themselves by demanding that legislators believe things which are not true and never were.

For example, they are asserting that Ohio movie censorship always has been a violation of freedom of the press. This argument springs from the fact that newsreels are subject to censorship.

But the argument skips two other facts—that newsreels did not exist when movie-makers of a generation ago were violating every standard of good taste and that newsreels today are only a small fraction of the movie industry's output.

The Ohio censorship law should be written off the statues but for another reason. Movies now are mature enough to police themselves through the Hays office. Exhibitors have developed a strong sense of responsibility. The public has learned to discriminate between the good and the bad in this important field of entertainment. There always will be dirty movies, but they will find their proper audience level.

Censorship laws in the early days restrained the movie-makers from hanging themselves in their own rope. Nothing could be sillier than to argue that Ohio has been doing something vicious and unconstitutional for a generation. Newton D. Baker, who first saw the need for public control of a new entertainment medium while it was developing its own sense of taste, knew more about constitutionality than all the people who now want to do the right thing for the wrong reason.

By ironic coincidence, the same session of the General Assembly which is going to abandon movie censorship is considering a state board to censor objectionable magazines whose publishers are making the same mistake. That invited censorship of movies while movie-mak-

Overworked Privilege

By David Lawrence

Time To Put End To 5th Amendment Subterfuge

Using the typical Communist technique of attempting to confuse the issue, many witnesses who have been asked simple questions of fact by congressional investigating committees now are trying to abuse the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution by claiming that to answer would be to incriminate them.

The cry is being raised also that the congressional committees are endeavoring to force individuals against their will to disclose their "political beliefs."

Since membership in the Communist party has long been indentified as association with an organization that seeks to accomplish the overthrow of the government of the United States by violence, it is difficult to see how such membership can be called "political."

Nobody who belongs to the Republican or Democratic or Socialist or Prohibition or American Labor party or any other minority party is as a rule afraid to disclose membership — he or she is usually proud of it.

It has been assumed by an unknowing public that the witnesses who refuse to testify before the congressional committees are somehow willing to tell everybody else the truth. As a matter of fact, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has contacted nearly all of the witnesses before they appear at the hearings of congressional committees investigating subversive activities and, in almost all cases, the witnesses who have declined to answer the committees have also refused to tell the FBI.

The argument given — namely, that to tell on oneself means involvement in "informing" on others—is more of an excuse than a reason.

Unfortunately, a number of "left wingers" are beginning to support the Communist technique either by swallowing the specious claim that to be a "communist" is merely to hold a political view or by contending that to do one's duty as a citizen and "inform" is low moral behavior.

If all "states' evidence" turned in by "informers" in criminal trials in American were to be treated contemptuously — either as not credible or as unworthy — many criminals would never be convicted. To follow such logic, all persons in jail should be turned loose now if they were convicted pert. But when he testifies on a fact — that is, as to whether he saw something with his own eyes or was told something by someone else — this type of testimony, when corroborated by other witnesses, is, of course, credible.

It so happens that the testimony of Louis Budenz has been presented to federal courts by the FBI, which stands back of him completely on all questions of fact on which he has been asked to testify before the courts.

Ex-Communists who have confessed their earlier misdeed take a big chance in "informing" on their former associates. They are subject to condemnation particularly by the "pink" elements in America, who disparage their efforts to earn a living by lecturing or writing on Communism.

This is denounced as "commercialism." Yet not a word is heard in condemnation of those who refuse to answer questions and insist on retaining their jobs without disclosing their clandestine relationships with Communist organizations.

Very little denunciation has come from the "left wing" of the Alger Hisses and the various persons in the State Department who have been dismissed in recent years on security grounds.

Former Senator George A. Wilson, of Iowa, has come forward with a suggestion that legislation be introduced which will safeguard the constitutional right of the citizen not to be compelled to testify against himself and yet protect the constitutional right of the Congress to elicit information without being defrauded through the use of the Fifth Amendment as a subterfuge.

He proposes that the same procedure now being used when witnesses appear before a grand jury, and refuse to answer questions on the ground of self-incrimination, be employed in connection with congressional committee hearings.

His idea is that a law be enacted whereby a witness who invokes the self-incrimination plea shall be promptly required to go before a U.S. judge in district court, and the witness shall be ordered to appear at a hearing and show cause why he should not answer the questions propounded.

Both the witness and the congressional committee would be represented by counsel. If the court finds the witness refuses to make full answers that he should make, he could order the witness

Tax Cut Bold Bid for New Confidence

By Raymond Moley

Overnight, the Right Honorable R. A. Butler, Britain's chancellor of the Exchequer, has become a national hero by showing that his government has the courage of its convictions.

After years of oppressive taxation which were accompanied only by deep and dismal austerity, the new British budget, prepared for the Churchill government by Chancellor Butler, unveils a series of tax reductions that has set the effort is not worth while. A budget," he continued, " must hold out a prospect."

This one is what he called "an incentive budget. . . . We must get out of the slack water, lighten the ship and give her way," he said.

The once-satid London Times, which has been walking a tight rope for 10 years between over-conservatism and socialism, joins in the applause.

Eisenhower administration. It has had the courage of some of its convictions. But it still lacks the daring to believe that the prospect of a tax cut would bring in more, rather than less revenue.

Of course, it will be answered by members of the administration that the British budget has been balanced. However, the balancing of a budget and the reduction of taxes are not two separate and distinct acts. They are Siamese

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Chaplin Storm

Charlie Chaplin is giving America the brush-off. This won't matter much. It was his battered derby, floppy shoes and baggy pants that really counted. The America that once went wild over the guy will remember him for his shambling gait, his riotously funny footwork turning sharp corners, his tramp attire, and his cane. There will be no great tear-shedding over Chaplin's decision not to re-enter the country. But we would like to get his hat and shoes back.

Of course, his antics, gestures and screen routines, up to the time he went serious, could lay 'em in the aisles, but those who followed Charlie from the early days of movies will always associate him mostly with the undersized headgear and the oversized footwear.

He was very funny from the Keystone cop era up through "Shoulder Arms" and "The Dictator." Little did his fans think that one day the little tramp comedian would waddle around a street corner, see Uncle Sam as the foe and take off in the other direction with that funny gallop, stopping now and then to adopt the nonchalant pose.

Yet in today's situation you see precisely the pattern of the Chaplin routine in his earliest comedy short. . . he finds himself behind the eight-ball, takes refuge on a park bench, gets the bad news of a pursuit. . . shrugs his shoulders. . . hits himself in the back with his own cane. . . takes a walk down to the water's edge, beholds the villain barring his path. . and takes it "on the lam" to the tune played by the one-man orchestra in the early chase scenes. But this time nobody is amused.

It's a little depressing. For Chaplin was one of the greatest comedians in screen history. In a world of stolen ideas, thefted routines and imitated scripts, he was 100 per cent original, creating a new character with new methods and new styles.

No clown in history had so many imitators during his first decade on the screen. They gave it up because nobody could come close in the characterization.

He packed 'em into the nickolets and gave the movies their first popularity in the days when a loudspeaker over the movie house entrance blared his name, when the music came from a battered piano and when a less sophisticated America laughed easily. His acts were "shorts," but hilarious.

Then came "The Kid," "The Gold Rush." "Shoulder Arms" and other full-length movies in which Chaplin scaled the heights, his derby becoming an institution, his shoes a symbol, his walking stick a box office morale builder.

No performer portrayed pathos, whimsy, distress, alarm or chagrin more wonderfully, doing it often by shoulder shrug, a slight hand movement or the flicker of an eyebrow. He had genius. The more you compare his early work ers were learning self-restraint.

Carnegie to Grunewald

Some publishing firm which needs a bread-and-butter manuscript will miss a sure thing if it doesn't sign up Henry V. Grunewald to do a handbook on the art of friendship. There is no more mystery about Washington's "mystery man." It's all in the record now.

Grunewald's testimony before a House subcommittee reveals a magic touch which must make Dale Carnegie squirm with envy. But on the other hand, Carnegie isn't squirming before a House subcommittee.

Carnegie was satisfied to tell others how to make friends and influence people, whereas Grunewald put friendship to work in his own behalf—a telephone call here, a gift there, a favor, a costly trinket and a multi-thousand-dollar fee for introducing a couple of fellows who wanted to get together. And all this in connection with government, where knowing the right people at the right time is the magic key to success.

Grunewald had friendship figured out to a handclasp and the flutter of an eyelid. He made a handsome living with his mastery of a credo which once belonged to cynics but now should belong to the ages: "It Isn't What You Know That Counts; It's Who," by Henry V. Grunewald.

The Best Was Bad

The consensus of the Korean war prisoners can be foretold:

Their treatment by North Koreans and Chinese ranged from barbaric to humane, but the best was bad according to western standards.

The Communists have a good reason to make it appear that their soldiers were abused in United Nations prison camps. When the truth comes out, they will be under a stern indictment of needless brutality.

Even the Japanese, with standards higher than those of Koreans and Chinese, were unable at their best to qualify as humane in their treatment of prisoners during World War II. The meagerness of the Asiatic diet alone is enough to constitute abuse of any non-Asiatic prisoner.

When to that is added the carefully nourished hatred of Asiatic fighting men for "invaders" of their soil, mal-treatment is inevitable

In November, 1951, Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the Eighth Army's judge advocate session, estimated that at least 2,500 Americans taken captive in North Korea had been killed or allowed to die. His estimate created a sensation.

It created so much of a sensation that Col. Hanley's misgivings were quickly set aside. The following month there was an exchange of prisoner lists, with the names of more than 3,000 Americans included. The accuracy of the lists provided by the enemy in North Korea never was established.

It is beginning to appear now that Col. Hanley's apprehensions were well founded. Even at best, the Asiatic enemy does not share western concepts of the value and dignity of human life.

None of the prisoners returned so far was among those captured in the earliest part of the Korean war — the part referred to when Col. Hanley made his estimate.

through evidence furnished by "informers."

Thus Louis Budenz, a former Communist, has been attacked systematically by the "pink" element in America and by certain other folks who have been misled by "pink" propaganda.

The opinions or imaginings of Mr. Budenz on any theory or doctrine are not entitled to any more weight than anybody else's except where he has special familiarity and can qualify as an ex-for contempt.

While many of the questions asked of witnesses go far afield, Wilson says, "Surely they demonstrate that the claiming of self-incrimination is being used as a subterfuge and is worked overtime."

Mr. Wilson has been a governor, a member of Congress and a judge. His proposal is in line with others of the same kind pending before Congress.

hearts of the British in a gay mood for the Coronation season.

It is true that this tax relief follows a year and a half of improving conditions under a Conservative government. Without that, Butler would have found the going hard. But tax cuts such as are now to be made law are not based on past accumulations.

They are based on a wise decision that when you cut taxes, which genuinely reduce initiative, you release energies that provide more revenue.

Butler's 90-minute speech, the clarity and precision of which even the Laborite leader Morrison had to commend, was cheered repeatedly. It was a joyous occasion. And the fact that this display of happiness was not a mere party gesture is shown by the tremendous approval given the budget by the nation.

Excess profits taxes went overboard. The hated purchase tax was generally cut by a quarter; individual income taxes came down by substantial percentages; some entertainment taxes were abolished; and incentives were given for industrial expansion.

Butler hit hard at the fallacious economic argument that high taxes are a means of checking inflation. They are, he said, "a blunt instrument" at best.

This ought to be noted in the United States, for Fair Deal nonsense held that high taxes were anti - inflationary. However, such taxes induced companies to lavish money unnecessarily and also gave the government more to spend. Both results tended to raise prices.

The whole philosophy of the new British budget is based on the will to dissipate what Butler called "the hopeless feeling that extra

"The concessions," it says, "would be rash if they were not based on belief that they would stimulate corporate and individual enterprise."

It is a pity that this lesson cannot be fully appreciated by the twins — for when you reduce taxes from the present scale, you contribute toward balancing the budget.

That is precisely what the term "incentive" meant in the Butler speech.

Four-Way View

By TRUMAN TWILL

The man who was looking for a perfect place to live agreed that there are no absolute standards for this sort of thing. Except for sanitary regulations and building codes, there can be no standards for housing at all. It is as personal as food and clothing.

Differences of opinion make the real estate business. The inefficient big houses of yesterday have been declared obsolete by those who prefer the efficient small houses of today. But many members of the real-estate-buying generation now are looking for one of yesterday's houses in which they can live uncrowded, inefficient lives.

The man looking for a perfect place to live could agree on something else, too. It is as important to buy a right situation as a right house. All too often, a family on a house hunt forgets it is going to live in a neighborhood as well as a house; that it won't spend all its time admiring the artful arrangements of the rooms.

This presumes there is freedom of choice, which is presuming too much. Most people live where they feel they must live for one reason or another. They satisfy their desire for something more desirable by dreaming about it. That's what the man looking for a perfect place was talking about to me and vice versa—dreams.

My dream would be rough field stone with an overhanging slate roof. It would be situated in a valley devoid of other houses, but close to an improved road. Surrounding it would be enough land so the occupant could walk for 15 minutes in any direction and still be "at home."

There would be a scene from every window—a forest, a meadow, a stream, a red barn framed in green fields and blue sky. There would be rolling grasslands, all the common flowers in season, pine trees to sigh in storms and half a dozen outbuildings for everything a man would need to keep busy and contented—tools, machinery, supplies and materials for construction and repair.

The man looking for perfection thought he would like it all right, but he couldn't be sure about his wife. He suspected she was the kind who needed to be surrounded by other people in an apartment.

And that's how diffrences of opinion make the real estate business. Here's a family looking for an apartment in the middle of a 20-acre plot situated in the middle of the open country. With reasonable rent, no restrictions on dogs or children and a four-way view.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

"Right fresh from headquarters," and "Cheaper than the Cheapest" were slogans of merchants in the early pioneer days of Marion County. The "Fresh" goods had been laden at Baltimore or Philadelphia some four weeks before and brought over mountain and stream by wagon. Sole leather was 37½ cents a pound, bar iron 11 cents, nails 12½ cents, muslins and prints 25 to 37½ cents a yard.

Symbolism of Our Country

By MARK DANA

When more than 1,200 stockholders of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company met in New York the other day for the annual stockholders' meeting of this the world's largest corporate enterprise, they represented (and in many instances held proxy votes for) the total of 1,234,000 stockholders.

This is capitalism as denounced by some of our foreign friends and foes, and even scored by some Americans—chiefly, no doubt, by those who to their secret regret own no stocks and perhaps nothing else worth mentioning.

News dispatches say the 1,200 at the meeting argued back and forth about the way their business had been conducted during the past year by the directors and officers their own votes had elected, and frankly discussed plans made by those officials for next year's operations. Some of the arguments were a bit heated, as was quite proper for persons who have invested their money in anything, and after all the past-conduct and future proposals had been settled to majority satisfaction, the stockholders went back home—some of them to quite distant places. If there were any pleas for the Government to take over the telephone system and own it or merely operate it, this didn't make the news wires. Chances are the one and a quarter million stockholders—who range from humble employees and corner grocers and widows on pensions and college professors and bartenders and wealthy tycoons and clergymen who somehow have managed to save a few dollars—disapprove of socialism, to say nothing of its extremist ally, communism.

This same experience, this same opportunity, are exemplified day after day throughout America. A brand new immigrant, or a direct descendant of Captain Miles Standish, can become fellow-owners of our biggest business concerns. Such is America. They and their friends can buy, own and live in homes which become their castles, with no Gestapo or midnight intruders to worry about. They can operate their own business, perhaps tiny fruit stalls, perhaps giant factories, with their own qualities of industry, thrift, foresight, courage and honesty as chief criteria. Such is America, Capitalism? Of course it is, and proudly so. Ours is the principle of private enterprise, of individual rights to go up.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — The William and Mary quarterly has reprinted an agreement, dated Dec. 20, 1822, which may shed some light on student - teacher relationships of that day: "Article of agreement between Wm. Gill junr and his schollars, The said Gill on the first part doth agree to give his schollars two gallons and a half of Whiskey His schollars on the second part doth agree to find biscuits and cyder, and you to give them one day at christmas, which you are to make up at the expiration of the quarter The whiskey to be delivered to them at the school house"

Heavy Water Sought

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—President Getulio Vargas has authorized the foreign ministry to open negotiations to obtain seven tons of heavy water from Norway. The heavy water would be for use in Brazilian experimental nuclear reactors, which are being planned. Adm. Alvaro Alberto, president of the National Research Council, says the heavy water, acting as a "moderator," would permit use of less metallic uranium in the reactors.

TV Police Scored

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) — An FBI agent told a police conference recently that television and radio programs that depict police officers as "stupid cops" are "pretty close to being a crime." Edward J. Powers, special agent in charge of the FBI division at Albany, N. Y., says the law enforcement profession has failed to achieve an effective public relations program. "If we had accomplished our objective in this respect, certainly the American public would not tolerate television and radio programs which depict police officers as stupid cops, while the 'private eye' is presented as an intelligent visionary who can readily solve any complicated criminal case."

with that of the comedians of screen and stage today the more minor league they seem, copying one another, repeating old gags, depending on a horde of writers for ideas and mainly dependent on sheer brashness, begging the audiece for applause and heckling the nonlaughing customers. So much for Chaplin on the screen.

Off the "lot" he was a different type and not admirable. He came into fame and fortune in America and showed no gratitude. He lived and worked for 40 years, enjoying all our freedoms and good will, but refused to become a citizen. He shoved our traditions around. He was contemptuous of the American way. He apparently won't fight for re-entry. Okay here. But we would still like to see his derby, shoes, tramp pants and cane crash the gates.

A Marion motorist was sent to City Hospital early today with injuries suffered in one of two traffic accidents reported today by police.

John E. Kormos, 28, of 452 E. Church St. received a broken nose and cuts on his knees when he lost control of his car and crashed into a parked car and a tree at 12:54 a.m. today in the 300 block on E. Center St.

Kormos told police he was driving east and the headlights of an approaching car blinded him. Swerving to the left, he first struck a car parked in front of 344 E. Center St. owned by Andrew Irvine of that address. Careening off the parked car, Kormos' car went over the curb, across the sidewalk and finally came to rest against a tree in the front lawn of the Schaffner - Denzer Funeral Home.

The left rear fender of the parked car was damaged, bark was torn off the tree and the Kormos car was damaged considerably, police reported.

Kormos was reported in good condition at the hospital today.

Only other accident was of the fender-bender variety with no injuries reported. A car driven by William H. Orians, 40, of near La-Rue was damaged when it collided with the rear of another car driven by Lindell O. Brown, 36, of 409 Clinton st. The accident occurred at 4:53 p.m. Wednesday in the 300 block on W. Center St. The rear end of Brown's car was also damaged.

Will Visit Congress, White House

Marion Masons Leave For Trip to Washington

Approximately 100 members of Marion Lodge No. 70, F. & A. M., and surrounding lodges, left by special train this afternoon for a two-day visit in Washington, D. C.

An interesting schedule has been arranged for their visit, starting Friday morning with a tour of the FBI Building. Friday noon, through the special arrangements made by Rep. Jackson Betts, congressman from the 8th District, they will be able to witness the opening of the House of Representatives. Friday afternoon a visit to the Senate chambers has been arranged through the efforts of Sen. John W. Bricker.

Saturday morning the group will go on a special tour of the White House, which was made possible through the office of Earl Cook, a native of Bucyrus who is director of the Federal Depository Insurance Corporation.

At this time a gavel made by David E. Montgomery of 655 Delaware Ave., past master of Marion Lodge, will be left at the White House to be presented to President Eisenhower. This gavel was made from a cedar tree excavated from the marl beds at Castalia, O., and has been estimated to be over 8,500 years old. Following this, the group will go to the Arlington National Cemetery where a wreath will be laid on the grave of Henry Cusick, past master of the Warren G. Harding Lodge in Washington.

Saturday evening, there will be a dinner at Rector's Restaurant and it is expected that Rep. Betts, Sen. Bricker, Mr. Cook and Justice Harold Burton of the Supreme Court will be the guests of the Washington Lodge.

The Grand Lodge of Ohio will be represented by Judge Ed W. Kuns of Paulding, O., who is the senior grand warden.

Immediately following the dinner, the group will go to the Masonic Temple where the officers of the Marion Lodge will confer the Master Mason's degree on a local candidate. Harley U. Landes, worshipful master of the Marion Lodge, will preside for the conferring of the degree.

The group will leave Washington Sunday morning at 9 o'clock for their return home.

The Washington trip is part of an exchange program conducted by Lodge 70 and the Washington Lodge. Officers of the latter lodge come to Marion each year for Memorial Day services.

Four to Take Part in YMCA Youth and Govt. Programs

Marion Youths to Serve in Model Legislature

Will Join 420 Other Ohio Boys and Girls In Running Mock Govt.

Four Marion students will join more than 420 other high school boys and girls from throughout Ohio for the second annual YMCA Youth and Government Program in Columbus Friday through Sunday.

Sponsored by the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs in the state and the YMCA Ohio-West Virginia Area Council, the program is designed to teach the operation of state government through participation in a "model legislature."

The elected boys and girls who have been selected as "senators" and "representatives" will take assigned seats in the State Capitol Building; the "State Officers" will be elected; and others attending will serve as committee chairmen, aides, or just watch the proceedings from the galleries.

Those from Marion and their offices are Carol Sparks of 789 Bexley Ave., Marion County representative; John White of 399 Mary St., 13-th-31st District senator; Gilbert Herr of 1157 E. Church St., alternate to representative; and Robert Knachel of 222 S. Grand Ave., nominee for clerk of the Senate. Knachel will run for the office in competition with five other nominees.

They were elected at a pre-legislative training session held at Bowling Green on February 12.

The Marion group will also present two of the 67 bills chosen for consideration by the Model Legislature.

One of the two bills, both drafted by the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, is one of the top items up for discussion by the Senate. Listed as Number 4 on the agenda, it concerns the establishment of a state supported hospital for the treatment of chronic alcoholics.

Provides Vehicle Inspection

The other bill, also to be introduced in the Senate, provides for compulsory inspection of motor vehicles for defects once a year.

Adults assisting the clubs in drafting the two bills were Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, Robert A. Kelly, Marion attorney, and Mrs. Doris Maxwell, Marion Family Service society director.

The Marion Hi-H and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs drafted a bill for the 1952 Model Legislature similar to their

Following the balloting for governor, each House will have a meeting with Brown presiding over the Senate and William Saxbe, Speaker of the Ohio House, over the House. Candidates for Lieutenant governor will speak in the Senate, including: Ernie Fullum of Ravena, William Mills of Cincinnati, Edward Stanford of East Liverpool, Joe Worth of Lima, and Val Mowrey of Chillicothe.

In the House of Representatives, candidates for Speaker will speak, including: Jim Simakis of Cleveland, Jon Boss of Wyoming, Thomas Schell of Steubenville, Richard Maag of Sandusky, and Philip Wood of Worthington.

Chief Justice Carl G. Weygandt of the Supreme Court will administer the oath of office to the officers and Ted W. Brown, secretary of state, will present the official certificates of office to the electer representatives and officers. Atoriey General C. William O'Neill, chairman of the YMCA Youth and Government Committee, will take part in the opening session challenging the group to make the Hi-Y Model Legislature a true training ground in good citizenship.

Some 60 members of the Senate and House will be present at the sessions to serve as advisors, along with many Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y club advisors and YMCA secretaries.

Ohio State University will serve as host for the annual Governor's Banquet Friday evening. It will be held in the Student Union Building with Gov. Frank J. Lausche as the chief speaker.

Saturday, both sessions of the Legislature will be hard at work considering bills and in committee meetings, and the same routine will be followed Sunday. The session will break up Sunday noon. By choice of the teen-agers themselves, no time is scheduled for dances or sight-seeing; this is a working session.

Robert Knachel, nominee for senate clerk, along with boys and girls chosen in one of four other pre-legislative training conferences went to Columbus today for special schooling.

The candidates were to have a conference with the judges of the Supreme Court and the governor, Lieutenant governor and speaker of the House today to familiarize them with their duties.

The Marion group will be accompanied to Columbus by Marvin Ludwig, YMCA Boys' work secretary. He will serve as one of two advisors in the Senate, the other being Lou Hall of the Toledo YMCA.

Boy, 13, Admits Breaking Into Grocery Store

Another, 15, Arrested Tuesday Confesses 2 More Burglaries

Marion police marked "solved" three additional burglaries today with the apprehension of a 13-year-old boy Wednesday and further confessions from a 15-year-old boy taken into custody Tuesday.

The 13-year-old admitted under questioning by police Wednesday that he broke into Guyton's Grocery Store at 340 N. Greenwood St. Tuesday night.

Police reported that four silver dollars, about $1.60 in pennies and some 50 cents worth of merchandise stolen from the store were all recovered with the arrest of the boy.

Meanwhile, publicity given the confessions of the 15-year-old boy that he broke into nine residences in the city in the past few weeks, brought forth reports of two additional break-ins which he has also confessed to, Police Chief Tom Coon said.

Latest reports came from Mrs. Jesse Downs of 559 Davids St. and Earl Richards of Unit Number 3, Veterans Housing Project. Both reported their residences were broken into and the 15-year-old later admitted the two additional burglaries, Chief Coon reported.

The youths are being held in the Marion County Detention Home pending a hearing in Marion County Juvenile Court.

Police reported also that the 15-year-old said he enjoyed reading accounts in The Star of his break-ins and often criticized the stories because all the items he took were not listed. He operated on a semi-professional basis. His plan was to approach a darkened house at night and knock loudly on the door. If anyone was home he would pose as a magazine salesman or ask if they needed anyone to care for their lawn. If no one was home, he then proceeded to break in and ransack the residence in his search for whatever money might be in the house, he told police.

The Portsmouth, O., Times, a

It came against a background of mushrooming charges that 1,500 Allied prisoners died of hunger and lack of medical attention, of clubbings and bayonetings and death marches along icy roads.

When the Communists first announced they would return about 600 disabled Allied prisoners, the UNC called the figure "incredibly small" and asked for a recount.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee San Cho said several times that the figures had been rechecked and that 600 was all.

But at this liaison meeting Lee told Allied truce delegate Rear Adm. John C. Daniel:

"I would like to inform your side that the sick and injured captured personnel whom our side is repatriating at this time include not only all the sick and injured captured personnel held in prisoner of war camps of our side but also those captured recently by our side at the front.

"Therefore the number of personnel to be repatriated by our side is more than the estimated figure which your side has been previously informed. As to the exact figure . . . your side will be informed daily according to the agreement of both sides."

The meeting lasted only four minutes.

At Munsan, both Daniel and Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior United Nations truce delegate, expressed pleasure.

Daniel commented: "We would be glad if we only got back one more than they said they would give us but we would like to get them all back."

in suspending their fines Judge W. Dexter Hazen told the two men they were arrested because police wish to halt loitering by groups of men in the downtown area, particularly near the County Courthouse and in the N. Main St. area from W. Center St. to the railroad tracks.

Judge Hazen warned the pair if they were arrested on a similar charge again they would be fined and possibly sentenced to a jail term.

Police Chief Tom Coon said the two men were arrested in an attempt by police to halt loitering by anyone on downtown streets. He said an ordinance prohibiting both loitering and vagrancy has been among the city laws for about two years, but it was not fully enforced previously.

The situation has now become so bad, he said, with groups of men standing around on sidewalks in the downtwon area, making remarks at passing women, that police are enforcing the law. He said police will not further tolerate loitering on the streets and will arrest all violators.

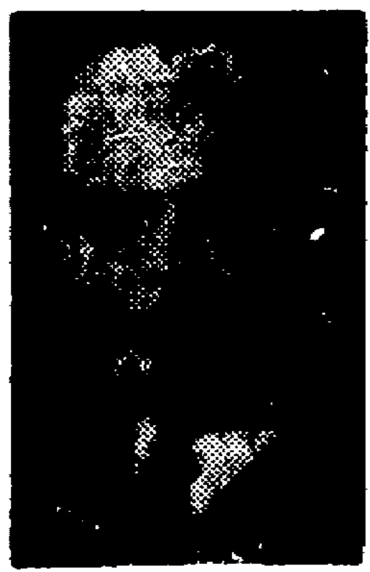
Boomerang Ballyhoo

By FRANK TRIPP

"Cigaret smoking only" is a common warning in commercial airplanes. They can be domestic, Egyptian or cubeb, and they can be regular or king size; or you can roll your own and burn up your clothes.

To one who rolled his own for years to save money, then spent twice the saving buying new shirts, this airplane restriction doesn't make sense—nor to cigar and pipe smokers.



TRIPP

There you are, two miles in the air, surrounded by 500 gallons of the highest test gasoline, and the man says that you may smoke only the culprit that gets blamed for half of the forest fires and home burnings.

It must be a concession to sensitive nostrils, and to women. I've conceded as much to woman as the next one. but I won't concede an inch on the stinko issue. If there's any smell worse than a closed room full of cigaret smoke, this chronicler hasn't encountered it.

No, this is not the gripe of a non-smoker. For something like 40 years he was a two-pack a day bird. He defended the cigaret against its enemies; contending that no matter how many a man smokes he embraces Lady Nicotine less than does a constant cigar or pipe smoker; consumes less tobacco, and much milder tobacco at that.

His argument was that it takes the tobacco of two cigarets to fill the average pipe, plus the fact that most cigaret smokers really smoke only one third of a cigaret. They throw away a third, and another third burns up in their hand or in an ash tray.

So, he said, it's all hooey about cigarets being more harmful than tobacco consumed in any other form. At least he sold himself on the idea and never discovered the difference.

NOT UNTIL the cigaret advertising boys, in their desperation to out-ballyhoo and out-slogan each other, started to slaying their own goose.

If they keep on emphasizing newly admitted faults of the common cigaret, as smoked contentedly for the last half century, they can reach the day when they are just holding their own against the old-time smoker who never gave faults a thought until they began blaring them at him morning, noon and night.

A good half of heavy smokers have spouses, associates or friends who ding at them for smoking so many cigarets. Some fight it every time they light up.

Along come folks who make and sell cigarets, saying that there's a way to use them safely. The reformers attack afresh, hammer and tongs. The cigaret's friend resists, but he's human, and no literate human is beyond the persuasive force of advertising, deny it all he may.

HE READS and listens to the "warnings," hears cigaret makers themselves say that scientific tests show that one out of three is a "sensitive smoker," that this cigaret is safer than others—so be kind to your throat.

Maybe he's been wrong, he thinks. He tries the dehorned fags and filters; misses Lady Nick, but rediscoveres her (and her sister) in a pipe. He finds a nice rum-flavored tobacco that comes in half-pound cans that are swell for bolts and nuts.

His wife, who only knows what she's read about The Lady, says "I love to see you smoke a pipe." He still enjoys the maligned, convenient cigaret but only smokes them when traveling and at dinners.

I JUST COUNTED 24 of those handy cans on a shelf in my shop, to say nothing of the dozens I didn't save. They shame me, in a way. I hate to see an old friend, that has given me so much pleasure, get such a dirty deal.

Each tobacco can replaced two cartons of cigarets, and cost about $3.00 less. I hadn't smoked a pipe for 20 years.

Advertising is an irresistible gadget. Sooner or later it makes everybody act—and always leaves the choice of action to the buyer.

Woman's Bequest Has Young Bird Lover in Dilemma

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A Memphis woman's bequest of $300 to care for stray cats left a Kansas City youth in a dilemma today.

He's strictly out of the cat business.

When Miss Ella C. Branum lived here she noticed Robert E. Brice's interest in animals. He worked in a pet shop and often gave Miss Branum advice on how to care for hers.

When Miss Branum died in Memphis recently she left bequests to humane organizations and $300 to Brice, now a high school senior.

Bobby's dilemma, in his own words:

"My hobby is collecting birds. Right now I have about 100 para-

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—More than 100 Crawford County housetrailer occupants have failed to pay an annual tax of $18 with deadline for tax payment now set for May 1, County Auditor Albert Stetzer announced here today.

The original deadline of April 10 has been extended until May 1. After that, the state requires that a $50 penalty be collected in addition to the tax, Mr. Stetzer pointed out.

Local Play Too Arty, Village Critics Claim

SHELBY, Neb. (AP)—There's too much "art" in the Shelby Village Players' latest production to suit some people.

They think a fig-leafed figure of Apollo and a bare-bosomed Venus in one of the sets could use more clothing.

The fuss was raised as the amatuer cast of 30 rehearsed a dramatization of Lloyd C. Douglas's novel "The Robe" scheduled to be given next Monday and Tuesday.

"I don't believe such things have a place in a small town play," said one cast member, a housewife.

Artist Terence R. Duren, who painted the sets, said some people "say frankly they would throw out statues and me with them . . . It seems to me to be their way of showing contempt for art."

About 28,000 U. S. people are killed each year in home accidents.

Italy's Red Press Raps Mrs. Luce

ROME (AP)—Clare Boothe Luce received straight-forward greetings from most of Rome's morning newspapers today but the Communist L'Unita—as expected—was something less than chivalrous.

Commenting on the arrival yesterday of the new U. S. ambassador, L'Unita called her an "elderly lady" and said she spoke with a "Brooklyn accent."

Progress

By Inez Robb

INEZ ROBB

This is the season of the year when college campuses are overrun with agents of big business and vast corporations dangling $10,000 - a-year jobs in front of any beardless youth who will, receive a bachelor of science degree in June.

These geniuses, JG, disappear into the maws of the nation's great laboratories and are never heard of again until they win the Nobel Prize.

This is just dandy for the June corp of BS's. But what becomes of the BA's? I can partially answer this query, but only partially. I am a specialist in Harvard BA's alone. This is not due to snobbishness so much as enforced association.

IMMEDIATELY upon graduation, Harvard BA's become office or copy boys with New York newspapers and news agencies. And what is a copy boy?

Well, when I have finished this column, I shall yell "copy boy" at the top of my lungs and eventually a genteel, bespectacled youth will reluctantly and leisurely detach himself from his edition of Jean Paul Sartre, mooch over to my desk and carry the column to the city desk or editor.

This represents the greatest revolution in the newspaper business since the invention of the rotary press. Twenty years ago when I yelled "copy boy!" an urchin on the la[illegible] from the truant officer [illegible] worse reluctantly and leisurely detached himself from his galloping dominoes, mooched over to my desk and carried my copy to the city desk.

SO THIS is progress? Rhetorical question.

This revolution in the newspaper business and doubtless in Harvard BA's is a direct result of the depression.

Until 1929, all Harvard boys, in the course of an orderly world, went to work in Wall Street the day after graduation. Then Franklin Delano Roosevelt was elected to the presidency and even Harvard boys had to find honest work.

One day the city room was infested with copy boys who, read, if anything, the comics and the Daily Racing Form. And the next, it was swarming with crew cuts and copies of T. S. Eliot's "The Wasteland."

One day I was loaning a juvenile delinquent $2 to put on a nag in the third at Belmont and the next I was advancing a quiz kid ten bucks for an autographed copy of "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

IF YOU ASK me what effect this has had on the newspaper business, I can say right off it has had an intimidating influence on oldtimers like myself. We came up the hard way by pluck and luck, or with a degree—at best—from a state university, with which lowly institutions Harvard does not even maintain diplomatic relations.

There is something quite unnerving, even to a police reporter, in the spectacle of a Harvard copy boy, en route to the city desk, spotting three split infinitives in the first page of immortal prose just knocked off by the correspondent.

Only three weeks ago, a crew-cut copy boy scared the daylights out of me by demanding an explanation of the word "ilk" in my copy. Before I burst into tears, the best I could do was "used as in 'it's person of your ilk who are driving me nuts'!"

I SPOKE to the managing editor, but he says there is something in the Taft-Hartley law about not discriminating against Harvard boys who want to carry copy, and that I must be brave and brace myself for the new onslaught come June.

He also said to try to remember that the office has not had to buy a new dictionary or replace the encyclopedia since the Harvard invasion.

And he also said we can always hope that under the new Republican administration, Wall Street will soon be able to absorb Harvard lads as in the good, old days, which is obviously what made them good.

OSU Offers 150 Scholarships For Teacher Training

COLUMBUS—A program providing 150 tuition-free scholarships for outstanding Ohio high school graduates to study elementary teaching in the College of Education at Ohio State University was announced today by Dr. Bland L. Stradley, vice president and chairman of the scholarship committee.

Details of the scholarships, which represent an expansion of a program started four years ago by the university, will be explained by Dr. Stradley Saturday when nearly 1,000 Ohio high school juniors and seniors visit the campus for "Education Day."

The scholarship program inaugurated in 1948 provided 88 four-year scholarships, one for each county in Ohio. The expansion of the program, authorized by the university's Board of Trustees, will enable the extension of this opportunity to 150. If any counties do not have candidates, their scholarships may be extended to other counties having more than their quota of candidates, Dr. Stradley said. Inquiries should be directed to him.

ing program in which they will hear talks by legislators and university respresentatives, they will tour the campus, have lunch, see a water show and then spend the afternoon in special group discussions on various careers available in education.

Airline Pilot Arrested As Dope Smuggler

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—State narcotics agents have arrested a Transocean Airlines pilot described as a key figure in smuggling dope from the Orient.

Agents said Roy E. MacArthur, 34, was arrested yesterday at an Oakland drive-in as he exchanged five ounces of pure heroin for $1,200. His customer was State Narcotics Inspector Vincent Chasten, who had arranged to meet MacArthur while posing as "a big-time vice lord."

Chasten said he had previously made three $250 purchases of heroin from the pilot. He said MacArthur had promised to eventually furnish him enough heroin to retail for more than two million dollars.

Arrested at MacArthur's apartment was Miss Racquel Jatica, 25, a night-club entertainer known professionally as Terry Lee.

Both MacArthur and Miss Jatica were booked for possession of narcotics. He was also booked on four counts of sale of narcotics and she as an addict.

Joseph Sens Sr. Got Idea From TV Program

Building Grandfather Clocks Hobby Of Retired Groceryman from Marion

By GARY SAMS

Television led a retired Marion groceryman into his present hobby.

Joseph Sens Sr. of 262 Ballentine Ave., builds grandfather clocks.

Sens, who had done minor carpentry work around his house, was impressed by what grandfather clocks did to the beauty of a house while watching television and decided he would build one. He completed it last December and now it is his hobby.

Presently he is building his third one. He builds the cabinet and does all the work, including installing the clock works and other parts, in the small basement workshop of his home.

Sens, who has resided in Marion 50 years after coming from his native Bucyrus, builds the cabinet with a few power tools—a circular saw, electric drill and jig saw—and by hand.

He says it takes him about a month, while working in his leisure time, to complete the project, and since he began building the cabinets, he says he spends most of his time in the workshop.

It takes about two weeks of steady work to put the cabinet together. Then for a period of four to five days, he sandpapers the cabinet and coats it with stain and varnish and buffits it with a buffer on his electric drill.

He orders the clock works from the Krundel Chime Clock Co. at Minneapolis, Minn. He says it is a very technical project to install the clock works in the cabinet. He installs the weights, pendulums and assembles other moving parts in the clock which can't be installed at the factory as they would be broken in shipping. The movement he puts in the cabinet must be level in order to run properly and rests on a felt base. He says installing the works takes from four to five hours.

JOSEPH SENS SR. of 262 Ballentine Ave. points to a grandfather clock which he built. A hobby which he took up recently, the clock was given to a daughter on her birthday anniversary. He has made another clock since and presently is working on his third.

Sens builds the top, which holds the clock, last. It is removable from the cabinet and is held in place by four small wooden pins from the bottom section of the cabinet. This makes it possible to check the clock for any defects with ease.

The clocks, which stand about 65 inches tall and measure 17 inches across the front and 12 inches from back to front, are mostly held together by screws. This makes the cabinet more durable he says.

He uses white pine in building the cabinets. It costs about $35 to $40 for lumber for each cabinet.

He says there hasn't been a variation of one-half minute in the time on the clocks he has completed. Sens gave the first clock to a daughter, Bernadine Findling of Bucyrus, on her birthday anniversary. While it had grandfather clock movements, the second one he made contained an electric clock. It sits in the front room of Sens' home. Sens hooked the clock up so as when the front door bell is pushed, the chimes in the clock will sound.

He is starting to make a clock similar to the first one. He says he makes the clocks just for something to do and that he plans to continue making them.

Sens is a great fancier of flowers which he grows in his garden. He was formerly interested in radio, he and his son, Fred, starting to make sets in 1914 when there was but one broadcasting station in the United States. Later they experimented with television, buying a set before reception was available in this part of the country.

Two of Sens sons, Charles and Joseph, Jr. run the Servex Distributing Co., a television and radio supply store, at 131 N. State St. Sens retired a year ago after running a grocery store at the rear of his home for a number of years.

Other children are Fred of Newark, Bernard of Cleveland, Mrs. Robert Howard of Cleveland, Mrs. Ernest Kingsley of Cardington, Mrs. Charles Healey of Pole Lane Rd., Gene of 262 Ballentine Ave., James of South of Marion, and Paul of Sulphur Springs. Sens' wife died six years ago.

Upward Trend In Employment Continued

Total at Work In Marion Area Up 180 in Month

A continued upward trend of employment at industries in the Marion area during February and March was reported today by the Marion office of the Ohio State Employment Service.

The report was based on a survey of 61 establishments in this area by Manager Fred B. Scherff and his staff.

Employment increased by 180 between mid-February and mid March. The total employed reached 13,700. Manufacturing concerns were responsible for most of the increase while service, quarrying and construction increases offset minor losses in transportation, utilities and retail trades.

Employers predicted employment would continue its upward climb although hiring may be limited because of the lack of skilled machine shop workers. Manufacturers expect to take on an additional 100 workers by mid-May while non-manufacturing concerns will need an additional 60. Increased construction work also is expected to swell the total.

The March employmet total showed a 13 per cent increase over the same time last year. Last year's March figure was 12,100.

A weekly average of 200 men and women applied for unemploy ment benefits during March, Scherff reported. That figure was down 40 from the February level. A year ago 500 persons were filing claims.

A total of 630 persons had applied for positions through the office by April 1. The majority of these were unskilled, service or unexperienced. Scherff reported em ployers' demands are becoming harder to fill due to the lack of experienced personnel.

Candidates Meeting Set Wednesday

Program of Women Voters To Be Held At State Street School

The Marion League of Women Voters, to again acquaint people of Marion with candidates in the May primary election, is planning a candidates' meeting to be held on Wednesday, April 29.

The meeting will be held at the North State Street Junior High School and is set to begin at 8 p.m. Mrs. Robert Axe is in charge of the meeting, with several members of the League assisting.

As another phase of the League's pre-election publicity, so that voters will know the names of candidates and something about them, a candidates's bulletin will be published in The Star Friday night. This method of informing the people was tried for the first time by the League last fall and proved to be more effective than house-to-house distribution of candidate bulletins.

Also, on election, day as in the past, the voters service committee of the League will offer transportation to the polls and baby sitting service in an effort to stimulate voting.

Chinese Put On Big Propaganda Show for Yanks

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP) —Marine Pfc. Richard L. Oven of Buffalo, N. Y., said today the Chinese had decorated the roadside from Kaesong to Panmunjom with signs bidding returning Allied prisoners "Farewell, Quick Recovery" and "Bon Voyage."

He said the Communists also had placed signs around the Kaesong camp urging Allied repatriates to tell the people back home that the Chinese want peace.

Another Marine, Pfc. Joseph Britt Jr., Long Beach, Calif., said that for the last couple of days at Kaesong the Chinese "had really put on a show."

"Oh, they put on the dog, man!" he exclaimed.

Britt said the Chinese gave him a fountain pen and two cartons of Chinese cigarettes. Then he emptied his pockets on the table before him displaying the pen, cigarettes, a mirror and other trinkets and said "look at some of the trash they gave us."

HOUSE DOG

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (UP) — The Charles Jellisons were ordered by the Board of Selectmen to get rid of their Great Dane, Pat, because neighbors complained he was a nuisance. The Jellisons decided to sell their house and move rather than comply with the order.

Alps Theme of Galion Kiwanis Club Program

Special to The Star

GALION — Colorful films of the Bavarian Alps, and native festivals depicting community traditions for hundreds of years, were shown by Joe Casey, Galionite, now on a short leave of absence from the U. S. Air Force, at the Kiwanis Club meeting, Tuesday. He has spent the greater part of the last nine years outside of the United States. For 39 months, he worked in Korea as a civilian in the U. S. Army, and after a short time at home in Galion accepted a position as chief inspector for the U. S. Air Force at Munich, Germany.

Locust Food Taking Part Of U.S. Taxes

SPEED TEST — A locust is fastened to a device which tests his flying speed.

—:—

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Compared with a locust, you don't eat much. In proportion to its weight, a locust eats 20-40 times as much as a man, and this is really a problem in one-third of the world.

A big swarm of locusts eats 500-800 tons of food to be airborne for five hours. This equals the daily consumption of 1½ million people.

These and other curious facts are contained in a bulky scientific report just finished by the young Danish scientist, Dr. Torkel Weis Fogh.

Dollars chipped in by the U. S. taxpayer to help the East build farming areas often have been turned into food for locusts, says Dr. Weis Fogh.

To study their flying ability locusts were suspended in front of a wind tunnel. It has been possible to make a single locust fly for several hours.

Locusts fly 3.5 meters per second, using enormous masses of "fuel," mostly vegetable fats.

After eating, preparatory "takeoffs" intensify the mobilization of "fuel reserves." The insects' milling and surging sets the fat-consuming process in operation. And not until this process is working to capacity can the actual migration begin.

Officers Elected By Wesley Circle

Election of officers for the new year was held when the Far and Near Circle of Wesley Methodist Church met Monday night at the home of Miss Marie Johnson on Monroe St.

Miss Johnson was elected chairman, Mrs. Mabel Snyder, vice chairman, Mrs. Zennebelle Messenger, treasurer, Miss Ida Habluetzel, secretary, and Miss Rosetta Clark, reporter.

A contribution of $25 was made to the National College of Christ Christian Workers in Kansas City, Mo.

Contests provided entertainment with high honors going to Mrs. Margaret Edington and Miss Clark, and consolation to Mrs. Myrtle Metz and Miss Jessie McAfee.

Although the sun is 93 million miles from the earth, the distance varies during each year because the orbit of the earth is not exactly circular.

South Korean Wac Released

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—A South Korean WAC was among the 50 South Korean sick and wounded prisoners freed today by the Communists—the first woman reported involved in the POW exchange.

She said she was captured in 1951 while serving with the Republic of Korea 8th Infantry Division. She added that two other members of the ROK Women's Army Corps were captured at the same time and still are in prison camps.

EPWORTH GUILD MEETS

Devotions and program for a meeting of the Epworth Methodist Wesleyan Service Guild Wednesday night were in charge of Miss Katharyn Smith and Miss Garnet Laird. Miss Margaret Topliff entertained the group in her home at 372 W. Columbia St., with Miss Mary K. Miley as assistant hostes. Busines was in charge of Miss LaVern Lash. Appointed on a nominating committee were Miss Topliff, Miss Smith, and Miss Elaine Ballinger. Miss Lash read a letter from Dr. Harold Brewster telling of his visit to African mission work. For the program, in place of a scheduled talk by Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor, Miss Laird presented the account of accomplishments of former students who had attended mission schools both abroad and in this country. During devotions, special prayer in behalf of the pastor, who is seriously ill in City Hospital, was offered by Miss Mary Jo Stafford. Miss Laird told of her recent visit to the Mothers Memorial Center, a home missions work at Cincinnati.

Annual Banquet For Juniors, Seniors Held At New Bloomington

Fifty-two Marion County high school seniors and juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society at a banquet held Wednesday evening in New Bloomington High School.

Presenting the main address of the evening was the Rev. Simon M. Davidian of Shelby, who spoke on "The Four Worthwhile Things in Life." He was introduced by County School Superintendent D.T. Mills.

The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. O. W. Robbins, and a saxophone quartet, composed of Jo Earl, Jane Haley, Carol Oberlander, and Peggy Oldaker, all of Claridon School, played "Alkhest March."

Mrs. Louis Preuninger, president of the Honor Society Council talked briefly to the group, followed by a vocal solo of "Bless This House" by Fred Kull of Claridon School.

"Rondo" was the selection chosen by a clarinet quartet following the address. Members of the quartet were Jean Click and Marilyn Mack of Pleasant, Marilyn Howser of Claridon, and Margaret Walter of Caledonia.

Presentation of the awards was made by Ralph Williams, president of the Marion County Board of Education.

Seniors inducted into the Society from the following schools were:

Caledonia: Margaret Jane Walter, Velma Dale Lyon, and James L. Kirk.

Claridon: Janice Jo Earl, Frederick James Kull, Marjorie Anne Meister, and Patricia Ann Van-Fossen.

Green Camp: Donna Converse, David Deeds, and Charlotte Klein.

LaRue: Chester Kurtz, Betty White, Jessie Smith, and Josie Smith.

Meeker: Joe Prettyman.

Morral: Carolyn Marie Hite, Roy Alfred Loudenslager, Jerald Coye Higgins, and Gail Edison Buckley.

Govt. Spending

By George Sokolsky

The Constitution clearly vests the power of the purse in Congress. Section 7 of Article 1 states:

SOKOLSKY

"All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives: but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills."

Section 8 of Article 1 states:

"The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises."

Section 9 of Article 1 states:

"No money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law. ."

IN RECENT years, Congress has tended to delegate the initiation of these powers to the Executive, which Congress now resents as the question arises whether it shall place a limitation upon government spending so that taxes may be cut. Great Britain, Canada, France. Italy and Israel expect to cut taxes this year, but every effort by Congress to place a ceiling on federal expenditures encounters resistance on the part of the executive, expecially with regard to H.R. 2 introduced by Representative Frederic R. Coudert, Jr.

Governor Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts said:

"Ten years spent here in Congress taught me one lesson so well, and gave me one warning so imperatively that I shall not forget either:

"The lesson was that unless Congress maintains rigid control over the spending agencies of the federal government we may one day find ourselves facing a national crisis of the first magnitude; and the warning was that Congress has lost such control. I believe that nothing more important can be done at this session than to regain it . . ."

THE POSITION of the administration is that while its target is to balance the budget, it rejects the concept of Congress doing it. Concerning this Representative George Meader said in a committee hearing:

"But here we have a carry-over of 81 billion dollars of carry-over funds which faces us on July 1 of this year, and if we appropriate the Truman budget there will be 72 billion dollars more — in other words, 150 billion dollars, roughly — more than 150 billion dollars— which conceivably could be spent all in fiscal 1954 by the Administra-

". . .Expenditures can be controlled by the Bureau of the Budget controlling obligations under the Anti-Deficiency Act. That is, under the 150 (billion) dollars which Mr. Meader points out which would be available for obligation in the fiscal year 1954, if the entire Truman budget were adopted or were appropriated, it can only be obligated as the Bureau of the Budget apportions it to the agencies for obligation.

"By reducing the amount of it that would actually be available to the agencies for obligation, they would to some extent control the expenditures that the agencies could make.

"The Chairman (Clare Hoffman). But that is no law. That is the exercise of the discretion of those who are in the Bureau of the Budget controlling the amount to be spent, isn't it?"

AND NO matter how Mr. Focke tried to squirm out of it, his testimony stands that while he objected to the legally elected representatives of the people passing a law in accordance with the Constitution limiting government spending, he held that an appointed group of men, in the Bureau of the Budget, operating in administrative secrecy, could at their discreation do precisely what he objected to Congress doing. He actually said

". . .I was only trying to answer your question as to whether there was any legal limitation, and I said it was a legal limitation in the sense that if, in the discretion of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, he places such a limitation, the agencies would legally be bound by it."

THE CHAIRMAN of the committee, Clare Hoffman of Michigan, finding no logic in this proposition, could not help asking:

"Then what objection do you have to letting us do it? Is it a matter of pride, or what?"

This long hearing only proves one point: too much of the government of the United States is still in the hands of bureaucrats who reject the junctions of Congress as they do the clear stipulations of the Constitution.

But Low on Reserves, Gruenther Says

Says West Could Cope With Surprise Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress was told today that Western military forces in Europe "probably could cope with any surprise Russian attack but lack the reserves to meet long-range requirements.

This testimony came from Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway at supreme Allied headquarters in Europe. Given at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee April 1, it was made public today coincident with Secretary of State Dulles' attendance at the North Atlantic Council meeting in Paris considering future plans for the building up of NATO's defense force.

Gruenther asserted NATO's situation was "vastly improved" over what it was at the start two years ago when its leaders worried "we might wake up some morning and find the whole (Soviet and satellite) force just pouring through, with warning that was no more than a matter of minutes."

He cautioned against cutting foreign aid so drastically that the French and other allies might fear "we are getting ready to pull out" of European defense.

Highly placed officials said Tuesday the Eisenhower administration is talking in terms of about a two billion dollar cut in former President Truman's $7,600,000,000 foreign aid request for the year starting July 1.

Gruenther told the committee there are still four million men under arms in the Soviet forces of 175 land divisions, 20,000 operational aircraft and upwards of 300 submarines.

Of the 175 divisions, 30 are stationed in Europe, the large part in forward areas, with others on the Western borders of the Soviet Union where they "can be quickly brought up for reinforcement."

He called the Russian MIG15 one of the finest interceptor airplanes in the world, but said that in long range or strategic aircraft, "we have better types."

The NATO forces, Gruenther said, have "an emergency plan."

"That plan envisages the actions that would be taken if the Soviet force should move today," he said, adding:

"That doesn't mean that we necessarily have enough force now to meet this threat successfully. In fact, we think we do not, but you fight with what you have and you do the best you can."

A long-range plan, envisaging what the strategy should be, has been presented to the North Atlantic Council, he said.

"There are strains on the Soviet side, and particularly on the satellite side, but those strains, with the gun in the back keeping people in line, are not enough to give us any reason for believing that the empire is about to collapse in the fashion of the Roman Empire," he said.

Times Change

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—It used to be hard to get along with a wife.

Bless the Russians, that has all been changed — maybe.

All you have to do to get along with a wife now is to give the external evidence of listening to her.

Times have changed. It used to be after a husband returned from an evening of reckless adveneure, he'd have to explain where he'd been.

That has all gone by the board—maybe.

A wife today — it says right here in bold english and non-truthful grammar — has a different view. She injuires where the world has gone during your rest period.

I find this only slightly harder to explain than where I have been the night before. But you have to satisfy a woman's natural curiosity about politics.

The last political remark I recall Frances making was in the late 1930's when she said acutely:

"What does this fellow Hitler really do — take the part of a country he wants and then throw the rest of it away?"

Now she has finally written Adolf off and got her dander up at Russia and I don't see how there is any possible compromise between them, strong as she is.

"I have read up on all this Communist business," she said, "and I think Karl Marx ought to drop dead, if he is trying to invent the fight rules."

"Marx has been dead for years."

"So good. It should happen to Trotsky."

"It has, dear. Marx is dead, Trotsky is dead, and—"

"And Lenin? Is he bent?"

"He's dead, too, dear. So is Stalin. Now there was a character, honey. Stalin started as a poor boy, studied for the priesthood, and became a great revolutionary figure, controlled the lives of more people through fear than anybody in history."

"I'm glad he's dead. What did he die of?"

"The doctors said it was a stroke."

'Well, it probably came from his father's side. I feel sorry for his mother. I hear he had three wives besides all that Communist rubbish."

"I don't know. He's kind of like his successor — Malenkov, a mystery."

'Who?"

"Malenkov."

"Who?"

"Malenkov! Malenkov!"

'Don't shout. You mean the fat one?"

"Yes."

"Well, you just tell him from me that anybody as overweight as he is will never get elected again."

"But, dear, he—."

"Don't dear me! Incidentally, where were you last night?"

"I guess I'll have to backtrack. I started off by saying that the new feminine interest in international problems gave a fellow a breathing space. 'Tain't so. A wife's foreign policy always begins at home — in terms of her husband.

The World Today

Soviet Peace Strategy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mild man relaxes when a belligerent man stops picking on him for the same reason being hit on the head with a hammer feels so good when it stops.

This country and its allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization must decide soon whether, like the mild man, they will relax their defense plans now that the Russians are talking peace.

Sincere or not, the Kremlin's sudden mildness started about mid-March, which was just far enough ahead of some important Western decisions to have a maximum softening effect, if the West could be softened:

1. The NATO Council of Ministers, representing 14 countries, was to hold its 11th meeting in its four year history to lay plans for further military buildup in case of Russian attack. The meeting began in Paris today.

2. The Republicans are anxious to keep their campaign promise to cut government spending. The biggest cuts are expected in money for defense and foreign aid.

3. The French haven't yet approved the plan to give Western Europe one army that would include Germans. The French are unhappy and doubtful about the prospect of rearming any Ger-council meeting may show whether Ismay was a prophet. The talk of the ministers may be very sturdy. But it's the decisions they reach that will tell the tale.

When the council met 14 months ago in Lisbon it set a defense goal for 1952, 1953 and 1954. The 1952 goal has largely been met. Later, but before the Russian peace moves started, the Western Allies questioned whether they had overreached themselves for 1953.

Originally the defense buildup was planned to be intense and quick. Now Dulles has said the U. S. would ask its allies to stretch out the program.

The ministers will decide whether they should go slower because (A) of their own financial condition or (B) the Russians suddenly seem less dangerous.

Meanwhile, it was learned here this week the Eisenhower administration hoped to cut perhaps two billion dollars off the $7,600,000,000 President Truman asked Congress to approve for foreign aid in the year starting July 1.

Some Eisenhower planners think this might be done safely because there is a backlog of about 10 billions for weapons, appropriated under Truman but not yet spent or obligated.

At the same time the administration is looking for ways to reduce military spending on this country's own armed forces. President Eisenhower said he himself will make the final decision on how much the cut should be.

What he decides might mean the difference between victory and defeat if the Russians once more reversed themselves and attacked here or elsewhere.

His advisers may not have been influenced in the cuts they're trying to make by the emergence of a Russian which talks of wanting peace, not war. But if the Russians had been acting tougher there probably would be no cuts.

MORRAL FARMERETTES

In connection with the Safety Achievement plan, the Morral Farmerettes 4-H Club decided to visit several farms in the community on a hazard hunt soon. The club met Saturday night at the home of Miss Ruth Bosley with advisors, Carol Harriman and Mrs. Jane Fogle.

New members are Jane Ann Loudenslager and Phyllis Smith.

Pictures of the flag-raising ceremony in which the club dedicated a flag and flagpole to the school were shown. Plans were discussed for a week-end trip to Lake Erie and partners were picked for project demonstrations. A committee was selected for printing program books of the summer's activities. For community work, the club will dedicate an outdoor oven to the village park and plant flowers in front of the two churches.

A potluck supper will be held for the parents so they can get an idea of the club's activities and plans for the initiation of new members were discussed.

After refreshments were served by Miss Bosley, the kitchen cabinet band practiced several numbers. The April 24 meeting will be held at the home of Peggie Schindler.

Defense Seeks To Prove Ada Airman Insane

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Prosecution and defense attorneys have asked for a third series of sanity tests on a 19-year-old Ada, O., airman on trial for the murder of a New Orleans liquor store proprietor.

Robert K. Stober, stationed at Alexandria, La., Air Force Base, has admitted shooting George Freman, 53, when Freman reached for a gun during a holdup last October, police said.

A state-appointed commission examined Stober and found him sane. His attorneys ran tests on him with a brain-wave machine and said the results indicated "positive findings indicating psychomotor epilepsy."

The state lunacy commission appointed by Judge Frank T. Echezebal found Stober may "have been somewhat under the influence of alcohol but not under any influence of a mental disturbance" at the time of the shooting.

Judge Echezebal said Wednesday he would take the request for further tests under advisement. The case has been continued.

Utility Man Plugs Gap for Giants, Leads Attack on Bucs

Club Takes Over Fifth; Yanks Lead in American

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

Leo Durocher is fast becoming a firm believer in the theory that every cloud has a silver lining. And Bobby Hofman is one of the reasons.

The New York Giants' manager was forced to dig deep into his infield reserves when Davey Williams, his preferred choice for second base, reinjured his lame back Tuesday night. First-string catcher Wes Westrum also was hurt and the club was in last place.

Leo switched Daryl Spencer, a shortstop by trade, from third base, where he had been performing, to second, and settled for Hofman, a utility man used so infrequently that his name doesn't appear in many baseball books, at third. Sal Yvars did the catching.

Hofman, batting leadoff against the Pirates at Pittsburgh last night, made Durocher look good in the first inning. He opened with a double and scored. In the third inning he hit a home run for the Giants' second tally. He singled in the fifth and then completed a perfect night with his second home run, this time with pitcher Jim Hearn on base, for the last two New York runs in the eighth as New York whipped the pirates, 4-2.

Hofman has been in the Giants' organization for 10 years since he played American Legion baseball in St. Louis on the same team as Yogi Berra. He saw action last year in only 32 games and his total home run production was exactly equal to his total of last night —two.

The victory jumped the Giants from last to fifth place, enough to make Durocher happy even though he was tossed out of the game for arguing in the ninth inning. Bill Stewart, working at second base, drew the honor of being the first umpire this year to kick Leo out of a game.

First place in the National League also changed hands as the Philadelphia Phillies made it two in a row over Brooklyn, this time by a 5-4 margin, and St. Louis defeated Cincinnati, 8-3, in two other night games. The Phils and Cardinals now share the lead with Brooklyn half a game behind Mil-trail. Vic Raschi picked up his first victory of the season.

Harry Byrd shut out Washington until there were two down in the ninth, then had to holler for help as the Senators rallied for four runs off Philadelphia.

Vern Stephens, Sherman Lollar and Sam Mele homered for the White Sox off Milt Jordan, Detroit rookie starting his first major league game, as the Tigers lost their fifth in a row and their seventh in eight games.

Bosox Rookie Wins Praise In AL Dugouts

NEW YORK (AP)—The boys in the dugouts say Milt Bolling, Boston Red Sox rookie, looks like one of the best young shortstops to come up in years. It's much too early to rate the kid but he does make all the moves.

It didn't figure this way down at Sarasota, Fla., when the Sox reported for spring training in late February. Bolling was the No. 3 boy on the list behind Johnny Lipon and Al Richter.

At the start of the exhibition games, Manager Lou Boudreau told writers that Richter looked like his shortstop. But Bolling didn't read the papers. He forced his way into the lineup with his fine glove work and unexpected good hitting. Opening day found him winning the job.

"Richter had all the past record in his favor," said Boudreau yesterday at Yankee Stadium. "But Bolling just won the job. We don't know yet how he'll stand up. But he never quits on himself."

When Bolling, 22, came up to the Sox last fall from Birmingham he was a standup hitter. Boudreau took him in hand this spring. At first he had the kid crouching low over the plate, like Boudreau used to do himself. Gradually Bolling found his own groove.

Talk to Bolling and you'll meet a tall, good-looking youngster who still is going to college at Spring Hill, a Jesuit school in Mobile, Ala. He has one semester to go before Happiest group of people in Marion when a permanent break in the wet and cold weather arrives will be feminine employees at seven industrial firms in the city. They will be those girls shooting for berths on the six teams of the Girls' softball league.

Jim O'Brien, league secretary, tells us most of the girls have been clamoring for a chance to practice but inclement weather has dampened their spirit. A little more than three weeks remains for the girls to round into condition for the season opener set for May 19.

SHORT

"The league will be a lot tougher this year," O'Brien says. "We're a lot more even and there won't be any two or three-team race," he adds.

The four teams held over from last year, Marion Power Shovel, Marion Industries, Telephone Company and Engineer Depot, are expecting to show a big improvement and according to the league secretary, the two new entries, Arro Expansion Bolt and Fairfield-Berlou, are expected to cause a lot of noise in the campaign.

A FISHERMAN'S DREAM was carted home from Dale Hollow, Tenn., Saturday by Royal Bosh of 254 Chicago Ave. The prize, an eight-pound wall-eyed pike, is now stored in Bosh's deep freeze unit waiting to be mounted.

Fishing with three companions, Harold Bosh of near Marion, Paul Penry of Prospect and Delbert Gregory of 168 Edwards St., in the lake near Star Point, Bosh landed the pike after a 20-minute fight. The catch was made shortly before Coast Guardsmen warned the party to return to land from 10 miles out. A storm was brewing, the party was told.

Minnows, worms and artificial bait were used but the artificial lures weren't attracting the fish.

Boudreau Eyes Pennant For Sox in 1955

Tom Umphlett And "Bobby Sox" Mates Praised by Skipper

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Time was when the Boston Red Sox used to pack 'em in at Yankee Stadium. Every night appearance created a ticket jam and a threat to the attendance record. Folks used to arrange their vacations to boo Ted Williams.

All that ended one day, about a year ago, when Williams went back into the Marines. With Ted flying a jet in Korea, the Sox embarked on a youth program.

Johnny Pesky went to Detroit with Walt Dropo. Vern Stephens finished the season but was traded to Chicago in the winter. Even with Dom DiMaggio obviously nearing the end of the trail, Lou Boudreau wasn't overly concerned. The manager's faith was in his kids.

Nobody broke down any turnstiles getting into the stadium yesterday when the Red Sox came to town for the first time. The paid attendance was a cold 7,193. The ages of the starters, not counting the pitcher, averaged less than 24.

But down in the visitors' dugout, before the game, Boudreau was talking pennant—a 1955 pennant That's when he thinks the crop will be ripe.

Boudreau knows some of the kids may not be ready for the big league. But he wants to find out what they will do. His "kids" are outfielders Gene Stephens, 20; Tom Umphlett, 21; Jim Piersall, 23; and shortstop Milt Bolling, 24, "veterans" because they were with him all or most of last year.

"Maybe the kids should be in triple A," he said. "Any one of these kids could have a hell of a year in triple A. But when it was all over Joe (General Manager Joe Cronin) and I still wouldn't know how they'd go in the majors.

"We figure if they're up here, they get to know the parks, get used to playing before crowds and face major league pitching. A year in the majors is more valuable to them than a year in the minors."

Bill Purdue Faces Bench

Death of 2-Platoon Plan Ends Army Ace's Career

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—The case of Bill Purdue, speedy Army halfback who was a late-season sensation for the Cadets in 1952, shows what can happen to football players under the new tighter substitution rules. It's back to the bench for Bill.

Purdue, essentially a track man, joined the squad last year without any previous football experience and by the end of the season was one of the most dangerous runners in the East .He provided the late drive which upset big Pennsylvania, 14-13.

As a two-platoon specialist, Purdue stood to be one of Army's brightest ball-carrying stars next fall. But with the two-platoon system dead, he is almost sure to waste away in idleness.

"It's too bad," Coach Earl (Red) Blaik said today, not hiding his bitterness toward the recent drastic rules change. "Purdue was developing into a great runner. He could have been a fine player for us.

"But now we must pick our men from those who can go both ways, who can stand up on both offense and defense. With no previous experience, no grounding in fundamentals, Purdue is finding it hard. He is not good enough on defense to play for us. His efforts to learn defensive plays is confusing him also on offense."

Blaik, rounding out 20 days of spring football practice this week, said there are about seven boys on the Army squad who would be useless to the team because they are specialists incapable of playing both ways.

Carter Set For Bout With Collins

BOSTON (AP)—Apparently confident about making the 135-pounds limit, lightweight champion Jimmy Carter today planned to wind up his preparations for his 15-round title defense against Boston's Tommy Collins by taking "a long walk."

Carter has completed his serious work for Friday night's 15-round bout which will draw $170,000 worth of cash customers into the Boston Garden.

Up in rural Action, challenger Collins, who expects to weight in around 133, planned one more stiff workout.

PRACTICE GAME

The West Town Merchants softball team will meet the Erie AA in a practice game tonight at the St. Mary athletic Field. The session is scheduled for 6 p.m.

waukee swamped Chicago, 15-6, in the only National League day game.

The New York Yankees took over sole possession of first place in the American League by whipping Boston, 6-2, while the St. Louis Browns were idle. A five-run ninth-inning rally fell short for Detroit as the Tigers bowed to Chicago, 9-7, and Philadelphia beat Washington, 7-4, in a night affair. Cleveland, along with the Browns, wasn't scheduled.

Billy Loes, who pitched 39 innings—38 of them scoreless—for Brooklyn against Philadelphia last year, couldn't fool the Phillies last night. They got to him for all of their five runs before he departed in the fourth. Karl Drews struck out seven in winning his first game.

The Cardinals battered Cincinnati pitching for 12 hits, half of them for extra bases, to put down the Redlegs at St. Louis. Vinegar Bend Mizell walked six and committed two errors, but he struck out seven and lasted until two were out in the ninth before needing help from Al Brazle.

The Braves bashed everything in sight for 17 safe blows and 34 bases at Chicago. Third baseman Ed Mathews led the raid with two homers and a double, good for six runs.

Boston's kiddie crop, youngest team in the majors, bowed to old age at Yankee Stadium. Johnny Mize, 40, punched a pinch hit single with the bases loaded and the score tied in the eighth inning to put the Yankees on the winning he gets his degree next January.

He's been in the Red Sox chain since 1948, moving up through Roanoke, Scranton and Birmingham to Fenway Park. Usually he has joined the farm club late, after college let out in June.

"This was my second spring training," he said. "In 1950 I was down South with Scranton. I saw Yankee Stadium only once before I played here Tuesday. That was in '50 with Scranton. We stopped off on a trip and saw the Red Sox play the Yankees.

"I didn't know if I could make it this year, sort of figured I'd wind up in Louisville. But I'm sure glad it turned out this way. What happened to my hitting? Wait awhile, it's early yet."

Belkas Wins With 2 Straight Falls

Chris Belkas whipped Joe Wolfe in two straight falls Wednesday night at the armory.

He coppped the first fall after 20 minutes with a reversed full nelson. The second fall went to Belkas on the same hold after only 11 minutes.

Danny O'Sullivan also won his bout in two straight falls. He whipped Bob Wallace after 19 minutes in the first fall with drop kicks. The second fall went to O'Sullivan when Wallace was disqualified for eye gouging after eight minutes.

George Macricostas won the opener in 22 minutes when Tommy O'Toole submitted to a crab hold.

The pike was landed with a plastic casting rod using a minnow on an 18-pound test line.

Bosh, an employee of the Universal Cooler,. and his companions, all employed by the Erie Railroad, left Marion last Wednesday night and returned Saturday.

Move Into Chicago

Redlegs Bow to St. Louis, 8-3, Fall Below .500 Mark

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs are below that .500 percentage mark in the National League again.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell of the St. Louis Cardinals took care of that Wednesday night as he held the Cincinnatians to seven hits while his mates thumped Bud Podbielan and Barney Martin for an 8-3 victory.

It gave the Cards an even break in the two-game series.

The Redlegs now will move on to Chicago where Herman Wehmeier is slated to make his first pitching start of the season Friday.

Mizell had the Redlegs under control virtually all of the way until the ninth when he got into trouble and Alpha Brazle had to rush in to get Jim Greengrass for the final out when Cincinnati had one run in and the bases loaded.

The Cards started picking on Podbielan in the third inning with two runs on doubles by Solly Hemus and Red Schoendienst and a single by Steve Bilko.

About the only thing Manager Rogers Hornsby liked about the game was the temperature. It was around the 80 mark and after the days and days of cold weather that change was good.

Hornsby indicated he plans to leave rookie Johnny Temple at second base, at least for a while, even though Rocky Bridges has recovered from an injury. Temple has had six hits in 18 times at bat and has fielded well so the Cincinnati boss apparently can see no reason for making a change.

Downs Stranahan In North-South Golf Tournament

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Frank Strafaci won't be 37 years old until next Wednesday.

But the Woodhaven, N. Y., veteran of many years of rugged golf campaigning came up with a gimmick one would expect from a contestant in the second or third flight of a senior tournament Wednesday in the North and South Amateur golf tournament enroute to his one-up third round victory over Frank Stranahan, the defending champion from Toledo.

Strafaci walked around the course carrying a folding seat which he employed on the greens while puffing peacefully away on a pipe. The restful combination paid off, with the help of some Stranahan lapses, to send Strafaci into the quarter finals today against Mal Galletta of St. Albans, N. Y., in a lower bracket pairing.

The winner will move into the semi-finals Friday against the winner of a match pairing Harry Haverstick, Lancaster, Pa., and Bob Cochran, St. Louis.

Meanwhile, in the upper half of the draw, Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., met Dick Chapman of Pinehurst and Maurice McCarthy, Muskegon, Mich., took on William Hyndman, Abingdon, Pa.

Tribe Preps For First Night Game

Garcia Goes To Mound Against Detroit Tigers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Unscheduled for the second straight day, the Cleveland Indians prepared today for their first night game of the year, opener of a four-game series with Detroit here Friday.

Mike Garcia will hurl for the Tribe.

To keep from getting rusty, the Indians played an intrasquad game at the stadium Wednesday afternoon. Fans were admitted free, and about 500 adults and several thousand kids took advantage of the precedent-setting show.

They got to see only an hour and 37 minutes of baseball in which the Scrubs edged the Varsity 4-3. The game went the full nine innings, but the pitchers worked faster than in regular league games which seldom finish in under two hours.

Red Birds Drop Home Opener, 11-2

By The Associated Press

Pitcher Ray Moore blasted two homers and twirled an eight-hit victory for St. Paul; Louisville won its fifth straight game, and Indianapolis remained undefeated—all this topped American Association activity Wednesday night.

Moore led St. Paul to a 9-4 decision over Kansas City. Bill Skowron and Forest Smith each tagged him for a homer as he went the distance for the pitching triumph.

Louisville walloped Minneapolis 19-10 for its fourth victory over the Millers this season. The Colonels rapped three Miller pitchers for 19 hits, good for 37 bases and included three homers and seven doubles.

Indianapolis remained the only undefeated club by crushing Columbus 11-2 to ruin the Red Birds home opener before 7,702 fans. The Tribe, collecting its second victory of the campaign, capitalized on four Red Bird infield errors, three by shortstop Sherwin Dixon. Al Smith was the winners' slugging star with two triples and a single.

The Charleston Senators swept their two-game series with the Toledo Sox, 5-4.

Try Again Sunday To Open Season at Marion Speedway

Promoter Cecil Addams will try again this week end to get stock car racing under way at the Marion Speedway after two postponements because of rain, snow and cold weather.

Last Sunday, 40 or 50 drivers put in an appearance at the track, but snow squalls and a muddy track caused the promoter to call the races. Several of Ohio's top drivers, coming from Cleveland and other Northern Ohio points, took a few turns around the track and tested their cars, in preparation for the first week of racing. These drivers included Bob James, Gib Orr and Bob Adams.

Other area drivers including Bob Harris and Carl Heffelfinger of Upper Sandusky, Harold Steele of Findlay, Floyd Lamb of Kenton and Marion drivers — Dick and Dude Grice, Eddie Fridley, Paul Hooper, Ted Rambeau and Bill Krohmer—all tested the track and pronounced it in good condition Other drivers from Tiffin, Galion, Bucyrus, Ashland, Delaware, Mount Vernon and Toledo brought their cars Sunday.

Time trials get underway at 1 and races start at 2:30.

Hogan Absent From Rich Golf Tourney

Refused $5,000 For Appearance, Declines To Play

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Taking aim at the top target of $10,000 in a $35,000 purse, 20 of the nations' leading golfers tee off today in the first round of the first annual Tournament of Champions.

Leading threats to capture the big prize are Lloyd Mangrum, Samuel Jackson Snead and Cary Middlecof.

Not present for the rich event is Ben Hogan, who came in for bitter criticism by other pros. They said he declined to play when his demand for $5,000 appearance money was refused.

Mangrum said he and other topnotchers are skipping the $15,000 Pan-American tournament in Mexico City next week because Hogan is getting $5,000 to appear, whereas others are guaranteed nothing.

Another subject of discussion is Snead's aching left hand. Sam broke a bone in the hand in 1951 and has kept it adorned in tape most of the time since. In his first practice Wednesday he carded a 37-32—69, which included an out of bounds six for the par four 18th.

Snyder hit a 236 in the second game after rolling 169 in the first and posted 187 in the third game. Dalton had games of 156, 172 and 167.

Spotless Cleaners, runner-up team in the league with a 56½-42½ mark, led the teams with 952-2790. K. of C., 59-40, tops the league and Carroll's Jewery, 53-46, third.

Bowlers in the Automotive League were paced by Don Poorman's 210 and Dick Whaley's 537. Drumm, which tops the league at 85-47, carded 837 and Lautenslager, in third spot at 76-56, did 2414. Fleet Service, 84-48, is pressing Drumm for honors.

Iberia Wins Easy Tourney Victory

IBERIA—Iberia High School belted Edison, 18-4, in a Morrow County baseball tourney game here Wednesday. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning due to a 10-run lead tournament ruling.

Walt Chambers went all the way on the mound for the winners, allowing only two hits. He struck out 13 men in the five innings, icluding four whiffs in the fifth when a dropped third strike allowed a runner to reach base. He gave up only one walk.

Iberia hitters combed three Edison hurlers for 14 hits. Dick Maidens clouted a homer and a single, Bill Roston banged out three hits, including a safety and Rex Riddle chipped in with two. Howard Miller belted the big blow, a bases-loaded homer in the fifth. He also collected a pair of singles.

Iberia will meet Marengo and Cardington takes on Johnsville in the semi-finals. The Pirates are scheduled to play Leesville today and Iberia will meet Mt. Gilead Friday. Tournament finals are scheduled for next Monday night at Cardington.

Women's Clubs Plan Antique Show and Sale

ENTRANCE TO THE LOVELY GROUNDS and the three-story Women's Club Home of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs at 1126 E. Center St. is shown above. Maintenance is supported by members of the federation.

Final plans have been made and tickets are now on sale for the Antiques Show and Sale to be held at the Veterans Memorial Coliseum May 15, 16, and 17 under the sponsorship of the Marion Federation of Women's Clubs.

Proceeds from the show will go to further the work of the Federation which now numbers 30 clubs and more than 900 women, having grown to this size in 55 years. The Federation first came into being on June 23, 1898 with the election of Mrs. Laura Winters as president and Mrs. Charles McClain as vice president. Until 1909 there is very little record of the activities of the group; but in that year the Federation, which had been a loosely-organized group, was revived with five member clubs, The Woman's Club, Current Topics, Advance, Research and the Council of Jewish Women. At that time Mrs. A. J. Whiting was named to head the group and was succeeded by Mrs. D. H. Harvey, during whose term of office the Loan Scholarship Fund was first established for the purpose of assisting women obtain a college education. This fund is still in existence.

The Federation was particularly active during the earlier years of its existence in the field of public health. In 1914 under the leadership of Mrs. W. L. Stump it secured the first visiting nurse and supported the program by the sale of Christmas seals, then known as Red Cross Seals. The sale of these seals for many years remained the project of this group. The Federation's interest in public health continued and grew and in 1924, during the presidency of Mrs. DePew Head, the group purchased a car for the use of the school nurse.

Worked for Hospital

Members also strongly supported and worked for the bond issue for a hospital in Marion. This bond issue passed and as a result the present hospital building was purchased in January 1921. The building was the Waddell Home for Aged Women completed in 1905 and opened to the public June 8 of that year. At the time the hospital question was being discussed, it was occupied by only two women.

During this time considerable attention was given by the group to the opening of a clinic in the hospital and on June 24, 1926, the "Free Dental Clinic" was started in cooperation with the King's Daughters and the Parent-Teachers Association. As developments and improvements took place, the name was changed to "Free General Clinic" and later to "Marion City Clinic."

The Marion Federation also early became interested in and supported the sale of articles made by the blind—another project which is still in exsitence.

In addition to these projects the Federation was constantly concerning itself with the civic improvement of Marion, as evidenced in the planting of a mile of memorial trees in the spring of 1924.

Plan Club Home

During this time the members were also planning toward the day when they would have a central meeting place of their own. The first mention made of this in the records of the Federation was an entertainment brought to Marion in 1913, the proceeds of which were designated as the start of a building fund. In charge of tickets for this were Mrs. Frank King, Mrs. Mary Wolford and Mrs. A. J. Whiting. This hope is now a reality through the gift of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Barlow. The Federation Home at 1126 E. Center St. was dedicated Oct. 2, 1945, and has been in constant use ever since.

"I believe there is great confusion within the Soviet," she told a news conference sponsored by the American Association for the United Nations.

Galion Council Approves Sewage Disposal Plan

Special to The Star

GALION — The major portion of business by City Council Tuesday night, pertained to the health and safety of the citizens of Galion.

Council heard plans and specifications for the enlargement and improvement of the city sewage disposal plant and then passed a resolution approving the plans. These have been prepared by Paul Uhlmann and Associates, consulting engineers of Columbus. A representative of the firm explained the plans which will be sent, together with the resolution, to the State Department of Health for approval. It was pointed out that the expansion will accommodate a city with a population of 15,000. (Galion now has slightly over 10,000 population). The expansion will be built in such a manner that an addition may be made as the city grows. Most of the concrete work is expected to be done by cold weather, and the plant expansion to be completed by next spring, the engineer explained. Last November, citizens voted for a bond issue in the amount of $300,000, for this improvement to the disposal plant. The engineers estimate of the cost is $240,000.

First reading also was given an ordinance fixing new rates of admission to the municipal swimming pool at Heise Park. On Saturday mornings, children under 14 years of age will be admitted for five cents, and on Thursday mornings, children under 13 years of age will be admitted free.

Another ordinance to get first reading was one which will do away with a city admission tax on all entertainments in the city, the ordinance to become effective Jan. 1, 1954, if passed.

In another resolution, parallel parking for both sides of the street was extended 200 feet west of the Union St. intersection on Harding Way West.

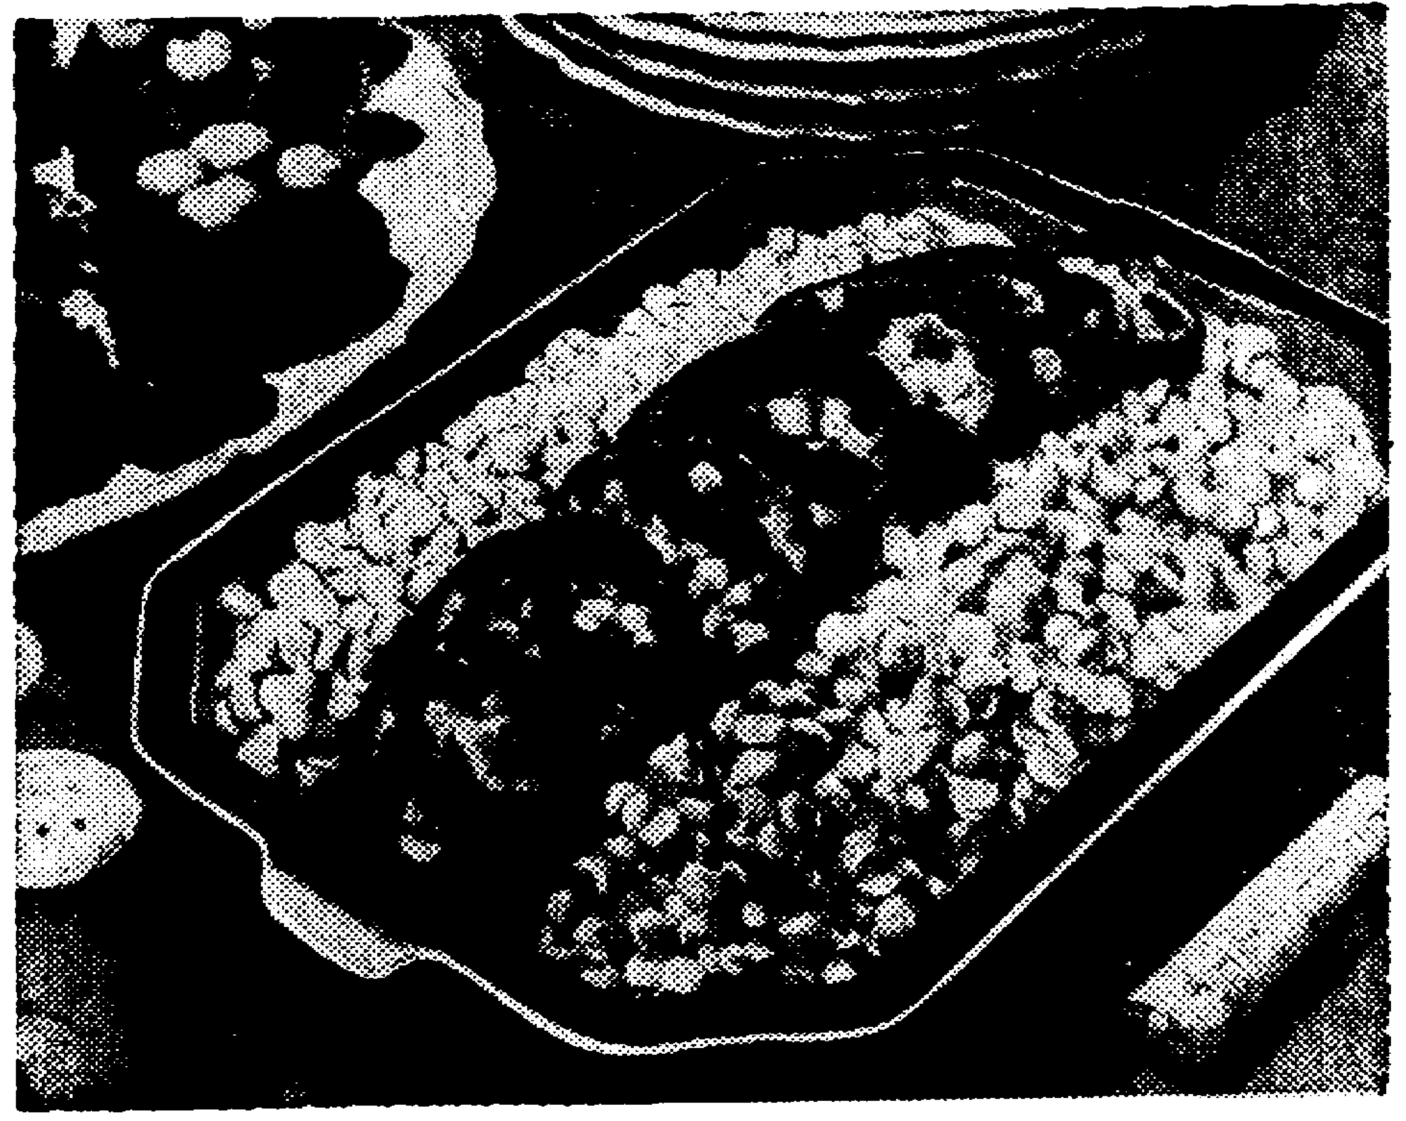
Corn Dishes for Springtime



PEPPY CORN . . . To perk up a spring meal.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Canned corn is plentiful this spring—so give this popular vegetable the glamor treatment for family meals. Here are three ways to dress it up; any one of them will taste delicious with hamburgers, baked potatoes and a salad on a night when you want a quick supper. Note, too, that you can use either whole kernel or cream style corn in these recipes.

PEPPY CORN

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 medium green pepper (sliced in rings), one 1-pound can yellow or white whole kernel corn, ¼ cup catchup or chili sauce, ⅛ teaspoon tabasco sauce.

Method: Melt butter; add pepper rings and cook until partly tender. Drain corn; add liquid to pepper and boil rapidly until reduced to ¼ cup. Add corn, catchup or chili sauce and tabasco; heat to serving temperature. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Note: If yellow or white cream style corn is used, add corn and remaining ingredients to cooked green pepper; heat.

NUTMEG BUTTERED CORN

Ingredients: One 1-pound can yellow or white whole kernel corn, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg.

Method: Drain corn; boil liquid rapidly until reduced to ¼ cup. Add corn, butter and nutmeg; heat to serving temperature. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Note: If yellow or white cream style corn is used, mix all ingredients; heat.

CHILI CORN

Ingredients: 4 slices bacon, one 1-pound can yellow or white whole kernel corn, ¼ cup chopped onion, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ teaspoon chili powder.

Method: Fry bacon until crisp; crumble and reserve. Pour off drippings. Drain corn; add liquid with onion to skillet. Boil rapidly until liquid is reduced to ¼ cup. Add corn, butter, chili powder and reserved bacon; heat to serving temperature. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Note: If yellow or white cream style corn is used, cook onion in 2 tablespoons of the bacon drippings until tender but not brown. Add crumbled bacon and remaining ingredients; heat.

Her activities in the school include singing in the Nurse's Choir, and she is co-editor of the student publication, "Tellsall." She was graduated from Harding High School in Marion last year.

Speaker for the capping ceremonies was Miss Beulah Klingler, R. N., educational director of the Toledo Hospital at Toledo. She is an alumna of the Lima Memorial Hospital School. Following the program, a reception was held at the Nurses' Home for parents and friends of the students.

CROSSING CRASH FATAL

MIDDLETOWN, O. (AP) — Huran H. Howard, 60, was killed outright Tuesday when a passenger train hit the gasoline truck he was driving at a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad crossing. The truck, loaded with fuel oil, did not catch fire.

GUESTS JOIN IN PROGRAM

Guests took part in the program when the Senior Bible Class met at Emanuel Lutheran Church on Tuesday night. Robert F. Williams gave a talk on religious symbols, and Howard Klehm played the piano. Devotions were by Mrs. Mary Fetter. Plans were made for a rummage sale May 1 at the Palace Theater building.

Inside Labor

Silvermaster

By Victor Riesel

It is only a short drive from where we were meeting to the quiet Atlantic Coast town of Harvey Cedars, N.J., which has unknowingly become the home of one of the toughest, most disciplined men ever to be named in Congressional testimony as a successful Soviet spymaster.

RIESEL

So we rode out along the peninsula, past the accused spy's home, right on to the Barnegat Light, six miles away — from which one could see only white caps, or incoming ships, or submarines, or whatever one watches for on a rocky ledge jutting into open water. This then is the home of Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, about whom we shouted unheeded warnings for so many years.

-:-

THIS THEN is the reward for Silvermaster, a man who even today refuses to deny that Soviet agents have visited him along this lonely coast — peaceful days, freedom, and even a going business.

Small wonder there is bitterness against such as Gregory Silvermaster among the group conferring only 40 miles away in Atlantic City.

This group, the Jewish Labor Committee (of AFL and CIO members), has before it ghastly evidence that Gregory Silvermaster's spiritual fatherland, the Soviet Union, is still virulently anti-Semitic, still running Nazi-like Jewish slave camps, still the old USSR despite the death of the master of all spy rings, Joe Stalin.

In the Jewish Labor Committee's reports, drawn from information sent through from far behind the Iron Curtain, are grizzly facts the entire Western world should ponder as it seeks to understand the "new" Malenkov-Molotov-Beria Russia.

THE WORLD was startled when Moscow's Praesidium suddenly released the six famous Jewish doctors. But in the Labor Committee reports there is the evidence that this was merely a chance of tactic, not a change of heart. For the committee reveals that there are at least 33 other prominent Jewish physicians still in jail — or worse.

These include Doctors Lurie, Braun, Kahan, Levkovsky, Eisenberg, Ehrlichman and 20 others of the Kiev hospitals.

In Minsk, a long list of woman doctors were jailed last January and are now dead or in special concentration camps. Among them are Doctors Anna Epstein, Cysha Nissnewich, Regina Block, Kantorwich, Slabodskava, Kabasch and Dora Papierno.

The Jewish Labor Committee reports to its leaders, some of whom have just come in from European survey trips, that:

". . . As many as 600,000 Jews are in slave-labor camps (right now) in the Soviet Union. In other words, one third of the entire Jewish population is behind bars. . . .

"The most sensational piece of information is about the conversion of Biro-Bidjan, the 'Jewish autonomous republic' into a huge concentration camp.

"There seems to be a concerted plan to consign Jewish prisoners to the camps in Brio-Bidjan. It is difficult to estimate the exact number of camps in Biro-Bidjan, but suffice it to say that in one camp on the shores of Lake Brio there are five to six sections with 200 to 300 Jewish slaves in each. . . ."

AND THERE are other prisons. "The old barracks of former Nazi concentration camps are being prepared for re-use," says the committee. The Communists like their old comrades of the swastika is issued on January 3 a directive announcing that all East German "non-aryans and issue (children) of mixed marriages must be placed under special surveillance."

Until now this news had not leaked out from under the Iron Curtain. The directive has not been withdrawn by Stalin's successors.

So the leaders of the Jewish Labor Committee work harder to smuggle their brethren out of the satellite countries. The tricks of their underground railroad cannot be revealed here. But it can be disclosed that one band of Jews who used special techiques to flee Communist Poland, reported on March 14, that:

"The majority of those who came out are sick. Some were brought literally on stretchers —

Publisher Speaks At DAV Banquet

Al Croy, Ohio City newspaper publisher and state DAV hospital chairman, was speaker at the local Disabled American Veterans' annual anniversary banquet Thursday evening at the Veterans Home on Delaware Ave.

Mrs. Croy, who is state adjutant of the womens auxiliary, also attended at the banquet.

Croy's address centered around relief and rehabilitation work being carried on by veterans organizations. He alerted all veterans and interested families to the possibility that a new VA appropriations will be severely cut in July due to the new administration promises. He elaborated on the fact that the 2,200 mentally ill patients at Chillicothe Hospital cannot be cured by medicine as is customary in a normal sickness, but must be treated rather with kindness as an only possible cure.

Ralph Westcott, adjutant of the Marion Chapter 22, presented Croy with a $50 check to help carry on the DAV rehabilitation program.

Final arrangements for the banquet were made by Mrs. Ralph

Pre-School Clinics Will Begin April 27

Doctors, Dentists Will Co-operate in Giving Physical Examinations

Schedule of 12 pre-school clinics to be held in the city and parochial schools April 27 through May 1 was announced today by Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, city health commissioner.

The annual clinics offer an opportunity for complete physical checkups of children who will be of school age next fall before they enter the first grade.

Doctors, dentists, nurses, and members of the Parent Teacher Association donate their services and the examinations are made free of charge.

Aim of the clinics is to call attention of parents to physical defects in pre-school children. All parents in the city are invited to take their pre-school children to the nearest school on the day a clinic is scheduled for that school. Parents who have not been contacted by the school administration are urged to call the school their child will attend or the school administration office on S. Prospect St.

Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of schools, said all first graders at the various schools will be dismissed the day a clinic is scheduled for their respective schools. Purpose of this is to give the first grade teachers an opportunity to meet the new children.

The clinics are sponsored by the PTA, the Marion Academy of Medicine, the Marion County Dental Society, and the Marion City Health Department. Mrs. Edwin Price, chairman of the city PTA health committee, Mrs. Lois Ansley, school nurse, and Miss Kathleen M. Thomas, city nurse, are in charge of arrangements.

All the clinics will be held in the mornings beginning at 9 a.m. There will be no examinations held in the afternoon.

The following is a list of the dates, locations, physicians, and dentists who will serve at each clinic:

Monday, April 27 at Greenwood School: Drs. J. F. Smythe, D. W. Brickley Jr., Floyd Yeager, and John B. Vornholt. At Oak St. School: Drs. J. G. McNamara, William Whitehead, and A. O. Linscott.

On Tuesday, April 28, at North Main St. School: Drs. C. W. Wilson, and W. Neil Price. At Pearl St. School: Drs. M. K. Marshall, Philip Smith, J. L. Plymale, M. R. Swisher, and H. J. Bohrman. At St. Mary School: Drs. McNamara, Daniel Murphy, and A. J. Wagner.

On Wednesday, April 29, at Oakland Heights School: Drs. F. G. Smith, R. C. Campbell, J. A. McGlew, and C. C. Conklin Jr. At Silver St. School: Drs. J. T. Boxwell, D. H. MacPherson, and E. W. Imbody.

On Thursday, April 30, at Forest Lawn School: Drs. Clovis Altmaier, M. S. Olson and V. C. Kissell. At Mark St. School: Drs. J. W. Bull, William B. Leffler, and Linscott.

On Friday, May 1, at George Washington School: Drs. E. L. Brady, F. T. Merchant, and H. R. Finney. At Glenwood School: Drs. F. W. Rea, Hugh Cregg, M. R. Swisher, and Ralph Burton.

Cuba has an area of 44,164 square miles, about the size of Pennsylvania.

ANPA President Refutes Criticism

Denies "One-Party" Press Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association struck back today at charges stemming from the presidential campaign that the United States has a "one-party press."

Charles F. McCahill, publisher of the Cleveland News, replied in an address prepared for delivery at the ANPA convention to criticism of the press by some followers of Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic candidate.

Stevenson, in a speech at Portland, Ore., last September, expressed concern that the nation was developing a one-party press. He added, however, that he had been "impressed by the fair treatment accorded to me by most newspapers, including those aligned editorially with the opposition.'

McCahill said today that he thinks, with the months gone by, "it can be said confidently that the political attack on the 'one-party press' has been effectively dissipated."

"We were by no means 'one party'," he said. "If the majority were for the successful presidential candidate, it cannot be denied that the opposition had powerful and able representation."

He said it would be a sad day if fear of anything prevented a single newspaper from declaring itself honestly.

"Neither the majority nor the minority was afraid to speak out on this critical issue of American leadership," he said. "Let us be grateful that this was abundantly proved.

"Incidentally, this so-called 'one-party press' published the accusation made against it as news on the front pages of their newspaper—just as they published all the news."

McCahill advised publishers, in line with presenting the facts, to "keep an alert eye" on international agreements or treaties "ostensibly" intended to bring about freedom of information.

He said the fact was that many of these proposals came from counties "which have no sympathy with and do not want complete freedom of information for their people. . . ."

"Representatives of other nations have their own ideologi s concerning, among other things, how much they want their people to know about their governments," he added.

McCahill advised newspapers against seeking a definition of their position under the Constitution, because "a free press is guaranteed by the Constitution."

"To advocate action by the Congress is to acknowledge that Congress can legislate on matters not authorized by the Constitution," he said.

"In my opinion," he added, "the press should never put itself in the position of conceding the power to regulate it in any way. It should oppose any effort to be regulated by treaty or otherwise."

McCahill's address came as an ANPA committee on federal laws reported that some federal and state lsgislators who resent "frank reporting and criticism" are trying to regulate the press through legislation.

In another report, the publishers hailed newspaper boys for character and aversion to delinquency.

The association's postal committee noted that the third 10 per cent increase in second-class postal rates since April 1, 1952, would go into effect April 1, 1954.

It expressed hope that a congressional study now under way for a possible revision in rates would proceed on a practical and realistic basis, with downward revision of some "public service" charges now placed against second-class mail.

The committee, headed by Dudley A. White, publisher of the Sandusky (O.) Register-Star-News, said it "is confident that the newspapers of the country want no subsidy and are willing to assume their just share of any obligation that rightfully belongs to them."

Gas Company Sets Date For Food Institute

C. L. Baxter, manager here for the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, announced today that the 1953 Gas-Co. Food Institute will arrive in Marion for two performances on May 5 and 6.

He said some 1,457 persons attended last year's version of the traveling cooking school and this year's all-new show is expected to attract even larger crowds.

The institute is sponsored by the gas company in cooperation with local merchants. Last year the show was seen by more than 66,000 persons in 45 Ohio communities.

Performances here will begin each day at 2 p.m. in the Palace Theater.

The school has two road troupes, each offering the same programs. One covers communities served by Ohio Fuel in northern Ohio and the other visits Ohio Fuel towns in the southern part of the state. They travel with specially designed blue and white trailers which carry the portable all-gas kitchens and other props and scenery.

Each troupe is composed of a home economist from Ohio Fuel's Home Service Department and a show manager. The home economists combine the talents of lecturer, actress, cooking instructor and appliance demonstrator.

These two troupers in the traveling cast are assisted by other members of Ohio Fuel's local organization. Appliances are set up and connected by men from the service staff. Patty Cox, known here as "Betty Newton," assists with the food preparation and has a part on stage.

Creasap and Mrs. Dwight Goff, and guests also were Miss Pearl Tuttle, missionary from Panama, formerly of Marion, and Mrs. Alva Caldwell. The three women from the WSWS together with Mrs. Vera Faulkner, Mrs. Viola Stull, and Miss Ruth Zachman, composed a vocal sextet.

The meeting was opened with special prayer by Mrs. Laura Gaver, president, and Mrs. Doril VanScoy. Mrs. Louise Coldwell, spiritual life secretary, urged all present to remember their prayer partners in specific prayer. A candlelight ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Virginia Veness as each member presented her prayer covenant.

For the program, the opening feature was spirituals presented by the sextet. Mrs. Faulkner completed a study on Africa, assisted by Mrs. Helen Clingenpeel and Mrs. Jean Roush who gave a dialog, "African Horizon." Study of African mission fields, locations and when mssionary work began there, completed the meeting.

In January, 1950 we began a Three Year $10,500,000 Expansion and Improvement Program. At the end of the three years—in December, 1952 — we had completed not just $10,500,000 but $12,127,000 in service improvement and expansion projects. In just three years the investment in telephone equipment has nearly doubled!

Equipment in the form of wires, poles, cable or switchboard has been added in every one of our 136 exchanges. In the three years since 1950 we installed 20 new dial central offices, and we now have 23 more under way.

Expansion and improvement continues in 1953

The job is not completed. At the beginning of the year, telephone materials and supplies on hand amounted to $1,445,000, and equipment on order totaled more than $2,230,000. More switchboards, cable and wire are scheduled for many exchanges. Telephone service will continue to grow and improve.

New Calendar Is Proposed By Hawaiian

Delegate to U.S. Congress Suggests 'Perpetual' Timetable

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those Hawaiians, who want to become citizens of our 49th state, will bear watching. Even before they're admitted to the Union they want to change our calendar all around.

This far-reaching proposal is made in a bill introduced by the Pacific territory's nonvoting delegate in Congress, Joseph R. Farrington. If his bill were adopted, starting in 1956 the whole country would operate on a "perpetual" calendar which would do away with all Friday the 13ths.

This calendar was invented by a Honolulu man, Willard E. Edwards, who says his system has been endorsed by scientists, business leaders and other prominent persons as "the best timetable they have ever seen for running the world."

Edwards became a calendar reformer at the age of 15 when, as a high school boy in Quincy, Mass., he learned that both Julius and Augustus Caesar had stolen a day from February and added it to the months bearing their names—July and August.

Young Edwards thought this was pretty sneaky on the two emperors and he said so. He also went home and started work on a new calendar which would correct that ancient larceny and take alot of confusion out of the existing way of recording days, weeks and months.

For more than 30 years' Edwards, now a Pearl Harbor electrical engineer, has been crusading for adoption of his "perpetual" calendar.

Edwards would divide the year into four quarters of 91 days each. That adds up to 364 days. The missing day would be sandwiched in between Dec. 31 and Jan. 1. Every four years the additional leap year day would be fitted in between June 31 and July 1.

Now, then:

Each quarter of Edwards' year would start at the beginning of a week and end on the last day of a week. Each month would have 26 work days plus Sabbaths. And this tidy arrangement would continue year after year.

Besides eliminating Friday, the 13th, a day some people consider unlucky, what are the advantages? The Honolulu Star-Bulletin recently published an interview with Edwards in which the inventor listed these.

1. The 1st and 15th of each month, payday for many people, always would fall on a week day. No paydays, for those people, would fall on Sunday.

2. Anniversaries and holidays would always come on the same day.

3. Numerous three-day holidays could be arranged. Christmas, for instance, would always fall on Sunday, so that Saturday-Sunday-Monday observance could be made an annual event.

Students Act Out Solution to Problem

STANFORD, Calif. (UP) — "Sociodrama" is the newest wrinkle in grade-school teaching in California.

Instead of merely sitting and listening to teacher telling them how to behave, the boys and girls are "acting out" behavior situations.

The teacher tells or reads a "problem story," about children like themselves in situations encountered in daily life. The story ends "up in the air" just before the problem is solved.

The children then act out such solutions as occur to them. Several possible endings may be tried, and the class votes on which is best.

Prof. Fannie R. Shaftel of Stanford and her author husband, George Shaftel, who recently published an 80-page report on the technique, say "children live through many of their most crucial situations outside the class room." The Shaftels believe it is a vital function of the schools to develop in the children adequate ways of meeting these problems.

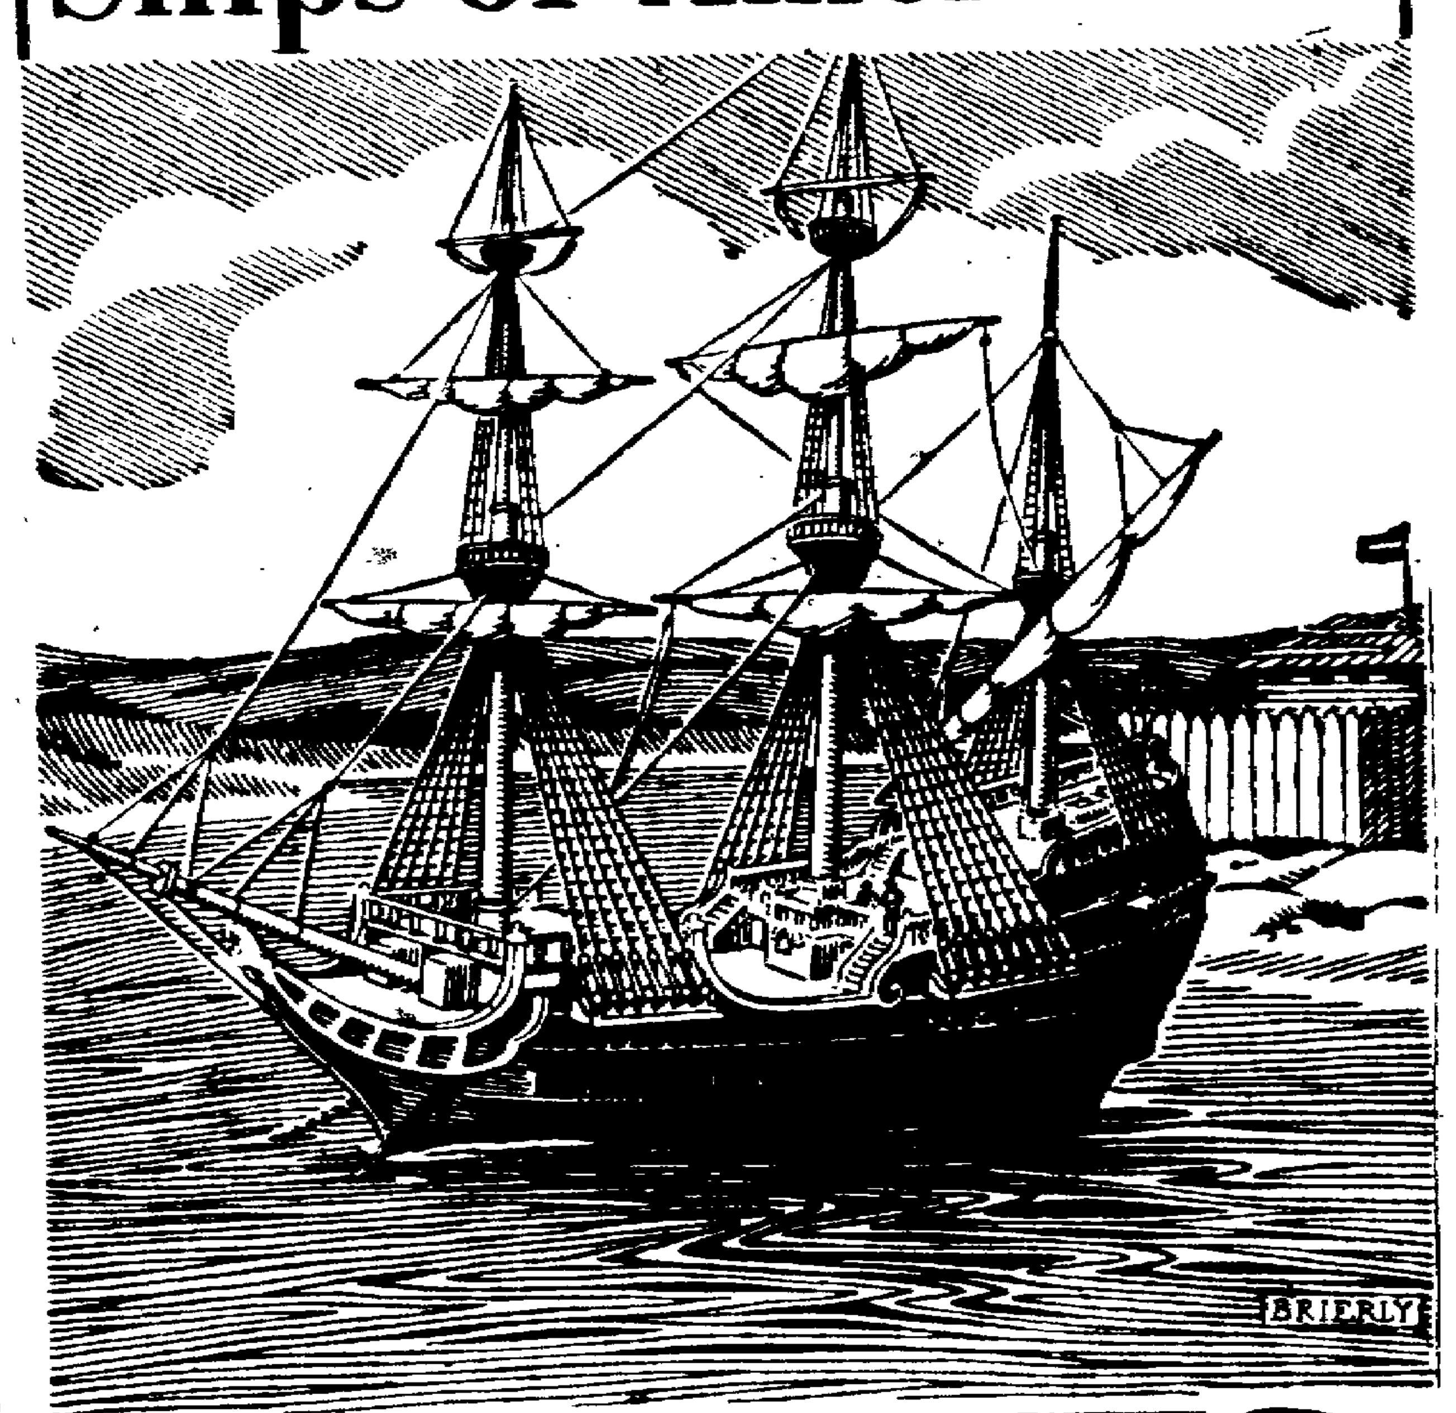
Ships of America — 7



The NEW NETHERLAND

AP Newsfeatures

It was not until they had observed the strong outposts of the English in Virginia and Massachusetts, that the Dutch West India Company finally decided to establish a permanent settlement of equal strength on Manhattan Island. As a result, the ship New Netherland sailed from Holland in March of 1623, reached New Amsterdam (New York) the following May and set ashore thirty families of emigrants, many of whom had left Europe to escape religious persecution. Overcoming hardship and privation, the usual lot of the early settlers, they soon built homes for themselves and later a fort, thus establishing permanent settlement of New York.

The World Today

Tidelands Filibuster

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The votes are against them. So the band of senators, mostly Democrats, fighting the Republican-sponsored submerged lands bill, can't hope to block it altogether.

They would probably consider it something of a victory if they could push the Republican leadership into a compromise—to tone down and tighten the bill to give a few states the oil-rich lands off their coasts.

This band of senators has been talking against the measure three weeks, denying charges by the other side that they are conducting a true filibuster.

In those three weeks they may not have changed one vote by their oratory, since most of the Republicans seem bent on carrying out President Eisenhower's campaign promise to let the states have the

But throughout American history, various states, and before them the colonies, have claimed control for themselves out as far as 1,000 miles.

Such claims didn't cause any trouble until comparatively recent years when oil was discovered in the submerged lands off the coast of Louisiana, Texas and California.

If developed, these lands would produce oil worth billions of dollars, from which either the states or the government would get revenue. Who really owned them: the states or the government

'The "tidelands" are not in dispute. The Supreme Court ruled 108 years ago that the tidelands—the land between the high and low-tide marks off the coast—belong to the states.

What is in dispute is ownership and control of the submerged lands which extend seaward from the miles from their shores—and any lands beyond that mark if they can prove a just claim to them.

Thus it would seem Congress could give Texas and Louisiana 10½ miles now and 100 miles later. Actually, most of the oil is in the lands beyond the three-mile limit, except off California.

The Democrats fighting this bill say Congress has no right to give away these riches.

If they could get the Republican leadership to change the wording —saying no state can ever claim ownership beyond three miles— they might feel they hadn't lost altogether.

Parents Are Adults —Give 'Em a Break

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP) — Modern psychologists haven't done right by mother, and, according to a Washington University psychologist, it's time parents were treated as adults.

Mrs. Jane Loevinger Weissman said her colleagues have been taking the child's side exclusively in their books on how to bring up children. She said such books can do great harm in the rearing of a child — both to the child and parents.

Parents, Mrs. Weissman says, have some rights, children some duties, and putting the blame on mother is usually a mistake.

Children help parents become mature people, she says, and parenthood should be recognized as a development stage occurring between childhood and old age.

Hello, Central, Give Me Mr. St. Treas

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP)—A telephone operator at the state house was puzzled over a long distance call for "Mr. St. Treas."

She asked the long distance operator to confirm the name.

"That's right." long distance said. "It's written on a piece of paper. His first name is Ansel — Mr. Ansel St. Treas."

After that it took only a second for the state treasurer, William Ansel, to receive his call.

submerged lands.

But they have messed up any schedule the Republican Senate leadership may have had for handling other measures which now must await their turn until the submerged lands question is settled.

But the delay isn't as bad as it would have been later in the session if Sen. Taft, Republican Senate leader, had waited until then, when major legislation was piling up, to start action on the submerged lands.

He brought it up at this time when the Senate could best afford a delay. A filibuster later might have forced the Republicans to abandon the submerged lands problem for 1953. The House has passed a somewhat similar bill.

This government, in dealing with other nations, traditionally since Thomas Jefferson's time has claimed control over the bordering oceans out three miles.

low-tide mark out to the end of continental shelf—that is, where the base of the American continent drops off into the ocean deeps.

The case went to the Supreme Court. Three times, first in 1947, the court ruled the states own none of the submerged land beyond their tidelands and that the government has paramount rights in those lands.

The only way the states could get around such a Supreme Court decision was to have Congress give them title.

Just how far out could they claim title?

Louisiana officials frankly say they don't know where their boundaries are. And, although some Texas state officials say their claims go out 10½ miles, they might claim more later.

The Senate bill itself says in effect: All states will own the submerged lands seaward for three

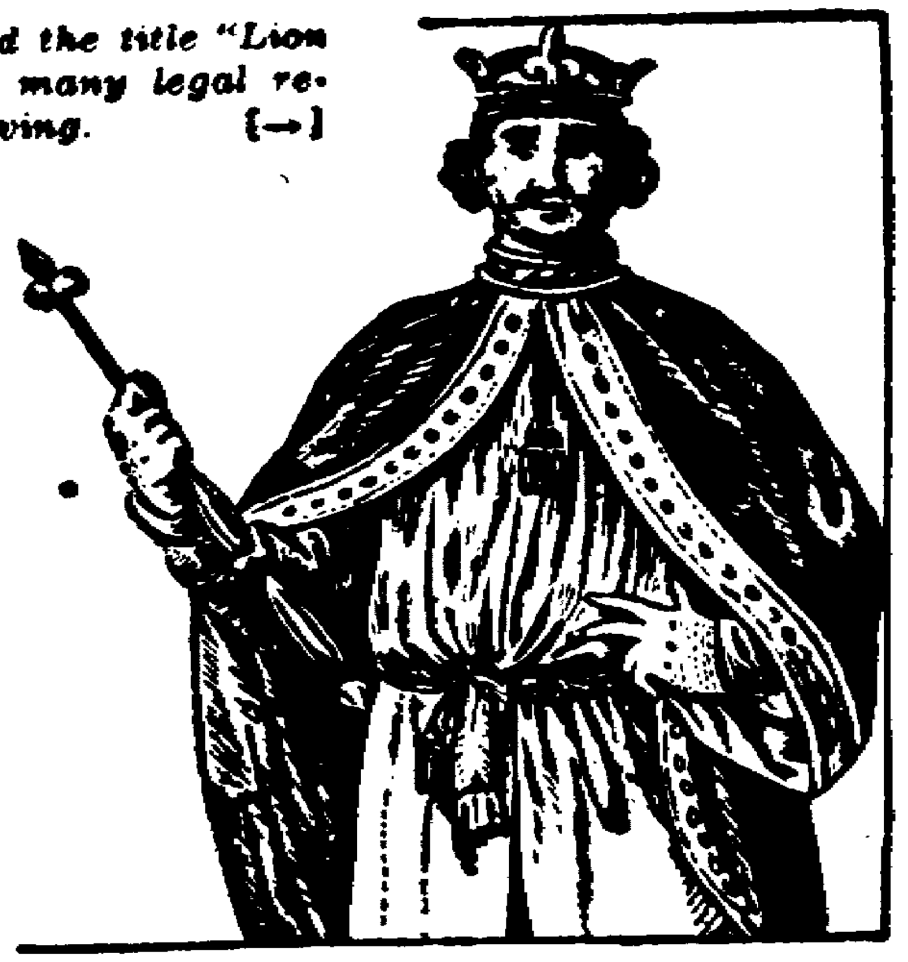
CROWN CAVALCADE No. 4

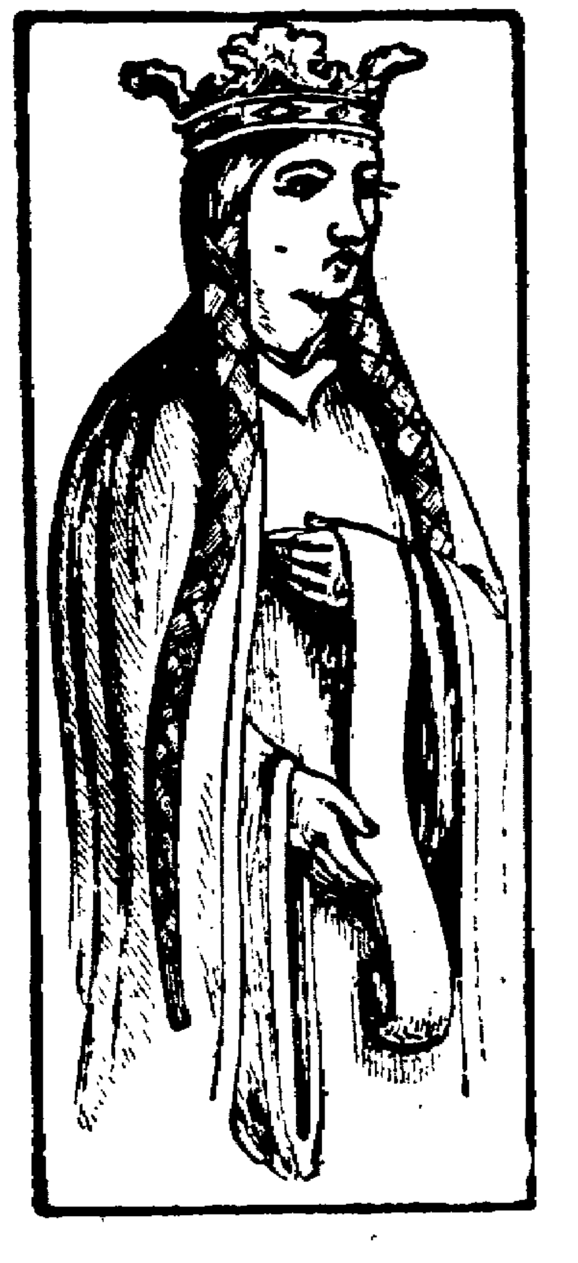
CROWN CAVALCADE

The PREDECESSORS of ELIZABETH II

No. 4: Henry I. Ruled England 1100-1135.

Henry I, popularly accorded the title "Lion of Justice" because of his many legal reforms. From an old engraving. [→]





A statue of Matilda, Henry's queen, exhibiting a fashionable mode of plaiting the hair and royal dress of the day. After her death, Henry married again in hopes of producing an heir to replace his son, William, who was drowned in the Channel.

Born: 1068, third surviving and youngest son of William the Conqueror. His birthplace was Selby, Yorkshire. Upon the death of William II, Henry seized the throne in the absence of his elder brother, Robert of Normandy, who was on the First Crusade to Palestine. Consequently, Henry had to overcome a succession of revolts aimed at enthroning Robert, who became a convenient figurehead for the barons in their struggle against royal restriction of their power. Eventually, Robert fell into his hands, and Henry imprisoned his brother for life. Thereafter, order and progress marked Henry's reign generally. He strengthened the judicial system and had considerable success as a diplomat. His only son, William, was drowned during a channel crossing before Henry's own death. Henry died of a digestive upset—the result of gorging himself on a dish of eels.

Politics Still Noblest Career, Farley Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Politics, says James A. Farley, is "still the noblest of careers."

"It is no place for the timid man," adds the former Democratic national chairman, "and no place for the corrupt and dishonest."

Farley called for special training of young men "to carry the torch of leadership" in a speech last night at a dinner of the Fordham College sophomore class.

EX-SENATOR SUED

CLEVELAND (AP)—Former state Sen. William M. Boyd is the defendant in a $100,000 alienation-of-affections suit filed by butcher Joseph Zubak, 30. The butcher said Boyd, 53, wooed Zubak's wife with out-of-town trips and clothes and financed her divorce action.

Talks With Repatriated Ohio POW

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio's first repatriated soldier was described today as thin and emaciated and suffering from a contagious disease.

Howard Beaufait, war correspondent for The Cleveland News, told of meeting Pvt. Charles Sacco of Lorain when the latter stepped from an enemy ambulance at Panmunjom.

"It felt unbelievably great to be free again, " Sacco said.

He was clad in a long blue quilted coat, a cap and black tennis shoes. A white gauze mask covered his mouth.

"Sacco smiled and waved at me," Beaufait wrote, "but it was obvious he was ill. He was thin and emaciated, doctors said he was suffering from contagious disease and would not be interviewed. He was flown later to a hospital near Seoul and then rushed to the Tokyo General Hospital.

". . . Sacco confided to doctors and nurses that he had been ill during most of his imprisonment. He said his treatment by Communist doctors was poor and the good was not too good."

"He said his first winter as a prisoner was the worst and he nearly perished from the cold and exposure," The News' story said. "Sacco and other prisoners were forced to attend classes in Communism, but he said the teaching wasn't very successful."

Sacco's parents live in Guelph, Ont.

Home Building, Furnishing Ideas at Home Show

Persons planning to build, remodel or furnish homes can get many ideas at the Marion Exchange Club's fourth annual Home and Better Living Show which begins Sunday at the Coliseum and continues through Wednesday.

Latest products for home building, remodeling and furnishings will be on display at the largest show yet.

There will be model rooms including kitchens, bathrooms, bedrooms and living rooms. Also on display will be various appliances, furniture, drapery and interior decorating, and floor and wall tile.

Paint, roofing, siding and aluminum and steel awnings may also be viewed.

For the sportsmen, there will be sporting goods and equipment, boats and outboard motors, and wood working machinery on display. In many cases, there will be actual demonstrations.

Plans are completed for the show, and according to John Salisbury, chairman of the event, 36 merchants have contracted for space in the show to exhibit and demonstrate various products in 82 booths.

The show opens Sunday at 2 p.m. and runs until 5 p.m. There will be a night session from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. and three others Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

What Are They? Cincinnati Bird Experts Not Sure

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Zoo has a couple of whatzis on its hands. Even the experts are stumped.

They were acquired from a Miami, Fla., dealer recently. He called them "giant gray mountain toucans."

The zoo is convinced the birds are toucans—of a sort. But they aren't gray, and they're not exactly giants. They were gray when they arrived—a dirty gray. But after fluttering about in their pool, they came up with blue breasts.

Neither do they have the gay colors toucans are supposed to have. Their blues, yellows, browns and greens are subdued—like their personalities. They haven't given

Isotopes May Solve Oyster Diet Mystery

BEAUFORT, N. C. (UP) — The U. S. Fisheries biological laboratory here is using radioactive isotopes in an effort to find out just what oysters eat.

Dr. Walter Chipman, head of the shellfish laboratory, said an oyster pumps 16 to 18 quarts of water per hour through a system of gills, filtering from the water various types of microscopic animals and plants for food. Numerous studies have been attempted but "we still don't know what comprises the oyster's major food," Chipman said.

The isotopes give off radiation, and can be observed as they are taken in by microscopic plants. These, in turn, are devoured by the oyster, emitting rays that can be observed as they are digested.

The Newspaper Boy

Did you ever stop to think the service your newspaperboy performs?

He makes his delivery nightly, whether it is raining, snowing, windy or 100 in the shade. Nothing stops him from making his daily appointed rounds.

He is a little business man operating a business just as your milk man, your bread man, your grocer, or any other merchant.

He buys his papers at wholesale and sells them to you at retail. The difference is his profit.

He is the sole judge of to whom to extend credit.

He depends upon the prompt payment of his accounts for his profit and working capital just as the merchant that operates any business.

He has his problems the same as you and I do. Some people want the paper delivered one place, others want it in a different location, he tries to please everyone.

However — should you at any time have irregular delivery of The Star to your home we shall appreciate a prompt complaint.

Plastic Tent For Plant Cuttings

BOSTON (UP)—A simple and effective method of rooting plant cuttings under a plastic tent has been developed at Harvard University's Arnold Arboretum in Jamaica Plain.

Perfected by Lewis Lipp, chief propagator at the arboretum, the device can be used by both amateur and professional gardeners.

The big feature of the Lipp propagating flat, in which shoots are placed, is that once the cuttings receive their first watering they can be left alone for a month or more. The flat should be kept at normal room temperature and should receive about one hour of sun each day. It is easily made from a shallow wooden box.

The box is filled level with a mixture of one-third finely shredded and thoroughly moistoned peat, one-third sand, and one-third styrofoam (which aerates the mixture so well that it cannot be over-watered). Plant cuttings, two or three inches long, are placed in this mixture and treated with any plant food.

Heavy wires, such as coat hangers, are then bent over the box making curved girders for the plastic "roof." Damp cheesecloth, used to keep the humidity in the flat constant, is stretched over the wire followed by a tight outside covering of polyethelene plastic which is wrapped around the entire box, bottom included.

PRESIDENTIAL STATISTICS

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Lonnie Johnson, a calendar expert, says Dwight D. Eisenhower is one of seven U. Mr. Eisenhower's month and day, Johnson said.

Everglades National Park drew 168,000 visitors during 1952, an increase of 25,000 over the previous year. New attendance records are expected to be set this year. A total of 24,716 visitors saw the park in January, an increase of 5,401 over the same period last year.

One of the newest features of the only biological park in the national chain is the self-guided tour. As visitors enter the park they are handed a guide sheet which tells them of interesting points along the route. Sight-seeing boats made trips into areas inaccessible to automobiles.

South Florida's climate gives the park an advantage over other national parks in that it may be visited in comfort throughout the year.
